Reports On Outcome Of Battle Conflict; Huge Army Of Chinese In Area

By G. W. GIFFEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HONG KONG, Oct. 18.—A major battle in which Japanese forces unleashed a series of relentless attacks against massed Chinese defenders was reported today near Tangshing, 45 miles east of Canton.

While accounts of the engagement conflicted, the most reliable advice seemed to indicate that the Japanese forces, heavily reinforced, were advancing rapidly toward the huge southern Chinese port.

Japanese officials and residents here freely predicted that Canton will be occupied within two weeks.

Other Versions.

Other versions of the fighting, prominently published in Hong Kong newspapers, claimed that the Chinese forces were holding fast and had delayed the Japanese advance for the past 36 hours.

Before the Tangshing battle got under way, a well-equipped Chinese army of 120,000 men was reported to have impeded the Japanese offensive which is seeking to effect capture of Canton by one of Japan's famous "pincer" maneuvers.

A Japanese communiqué, stating the Japanese forces had cut the Canton-Kowloon railway at several points, admitted the Japanese invasion of south China was encountering serious opposition.

Reports from the front indicated the defending Chinese army includes

The present spell of warm weather has been great for getting fall work done, but has not been so good for merchants. They say that a great many people do not start to buy their winter supplies until they are actually needed, and there has been no weather so far to start a buying rush. However, this weather can't last forever and it won't be long until merchandise will be moving faster. B. K. Hoyer, of the Wilmington road, says it was 110 on the sunny side of his house yesterday.

The Shenando and the Neshannock rivers are about as low as they have been at any time during the past summer. Considerable rain is needed before cold weather sets in.

State Candidates Of Republican Party Here On Wednesday

Mass Meetings In New Castle And Ellwood City Are Scheduled

Republican candidates for state office will bring their fight directly to Lawrence county on Wednesday when two public mass meetings and a reception are scheduled for Judge Arthur H. James, candidate for governor; Senator James J. Davis, candidate for re-election; Samuel S. Lewis, candidate for lieutenant governor; and William S. Livingston, candidate for secretary of internal affairs.

The candidates will arrive in New Castle about midnight tonight from Mercer county, where they appear earlier in the evening. Wednesday at noon they will be taken to Grove City by Captain Roger W. Rowland, chairman of the Republican County committee for a luncheon, and between two and four, a reception will be held in the Castleton hotel.

Hunt Suspect In Triple Slaying

Two Men And Woman Found Shot To Death In Home In Florida

(International News Service) MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 18.—Authorities maintained a strict secrecy today as they hunted a suspect in the triple slaying of a woman and two men here.

The victims, slain by shotgun charges, were found in the home of the woman, identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Hassey. Cards in the pockets of the men revealed them as Joseph Spivey, believed to be from New York, and George Black, a native of Marshallville, Ga.

The state's attorney's office said the trio had been slain sometime Saturday night, the bodies were found late yesterday when a caller peered into the locked home.

Investigators refused to discuss the case except to say that a definite suspect was sought.

G-Men Hunting Bank Bandits

Take Up Search For Trio Wanted For Clintonville Robbery

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—G-men today were on the scene of the Clintonville bank robbery making an active search for three armed bandits who scooped up between $3,000 and $4,000 in cash and then made good their escape in an automobile bearing Michigan license plates.

Although officials of the Bureau of Federal Investigation in this city refused to state whether they had encountered any new developments in the case, they did admit that they were undertaking an active search in connection with the case. The three men, dressed in overalls, cowed three clerks in the bank in broad daylight.

Witnesses to the robbery told police the car drove off in the direction of Franklin, and it was thought that the men might have gone to Erie or Buffalo.

Motorist Dies Making Flight With Stolen Gas

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The eleven gallons of gasoline he stole fed the funeral pyre for a motorist here last night.

The man sped away in his car without paying after the tank had been filled at an outlying gasoline station.

Two friends of the attendant happened by in their car and started in pursuit. The chase led for several miles at speeds ranging up to 75 miles an hour.

Swinging into a dirt road the fugitive car overturned and burst into flames. He was trapped inside and burned to death by the time firemen arrived.

The license number of the car was traced to Edward J. Alkire whose wife said he had left home for Springfield yesterday morning to find work as a sign painter. It was unknown whether Alkire was the victim or if the car had been stolen.

Big Liner Docks Without Aid Of Harbor Tugboats

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Shattering every modern maritime precedent, the 83,000-ton liner Queen Mary ignored the impasse of New York's towboat strike today by negotiating her way to her pier without benefit of tugboats.

While 1,602 passengers lined her rails, foregoing breakfast to witness a historic spectacle, the giant craft warped herself snugly into her berth with three minutes of the time usually required by a fleet of a dozen chugging tugs to accomplish the feat.

One snapped hawser was the only mishap. The 12-inch hempen cable parted with a crack like a pistol, but flapped harmlessly against the liner's side.

Gov. Lehman Has Conference With Roosevelt

New York Leader Guest Of President At Hyde Park Home

MAP CAMPAIGN TO RETAIN NEW YORK

Secretary Morgenthau Is Also Among Callers On President Today

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 18.—The Democratic drive to retain control of New York state and its weighty vote in presidential campaign years swung into high gear today with the luncheon meeting of President Roosevelt and Governor Herbert H. Lehman.

It was the first real get-together Mr. Roosevelt and Lehman had indulged in since the president's concerted "good right arm" surprised New Dealers by opposing the White House effort to reorganize the supreme court.

Breach Seems Healed

There was no doubt, however, but what any breach between the two had been healed—particularly insofar as the campaign winding up three weeks hence is concerned. The president is standing squarely behind the Empire State state which Lehman heads, running for a fourth term as governor and will go on the air November 4 to emphasize the fact.

Two other callers of importance came to Hyde Park today.

One was Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, reportedly called in to wrestle further with next year's budget in the light of national defense needs. Mr. Roosevelt says a material strengthening of both the army and navy is going to require a complete revision of preliminary estimates. How taxes will be affected has not yet been disclosed, although there is an obvious disposition to hold them down.

Gov. Henry Horner of Illinois was the third visitor at the Roosevelt family estate. The battle between Horner, former head of the Kelly-Nash machine of Cook county (Chicago) over nomination of a Democratic senatorial candidate, which resulted in selection of Rep. Scott Lucas—a Horner man—is said to have been settled in a complete armistice.

The New Deal has no desire to lose a senatorial seat in Illinois, and Horner's presence at Hyde Park was taken as an indication that the president was looking carefully into that state's situation.

Seek Method To Prevent Strike On U. S. Railroads

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Three men—a jurist, an economist and a law school dean—began search today for a plan to avert a called nationwide railroad strike against a 15 per cent wage cut. The carriers claim the pay reduction is necessary to save them from financial disaster.

Constituting an emergency fact-finding board appointed by President Roosevelt, the trio, composed of Chief Justice Walter P. Stacy, of the North Carolina Supreme Court, Prof. Harry A. Mills of Chicago University, and Dean M. Landis of the Harvard Law School, weighed many contentions, presented during 15 days of testimony.

Coal Miners' Board Hears Twenty-Three Applicants

Laying aside their picks and shovels, a group of 23 bituminous coal miners of this section left their mines Monday to come to New Castle to make formal application for the newly-required state "certificate of competency and qualification."

At the Croton avenue office of Alderman L. C. Mantz, the three-man Bituminous Miners' Examining board of Western Pennsylvania heard the applicants. A new state act requires the certificates.

Each of the 23 was given a short oral examination on mine work and safety measures, and when the board meets again at Castle Shannon, near Pittsburgh, on Friday, October 21, the certificates are to be granted or refused.

Thomas Nelson, secretary of the board, was in charge of yesterday's examination. John McCartney, the chairman, was presiding elsewhere, but Allen McDonald, another board member, was here.

State Sessions To Be Adjourned Until November 14, It Is Indicated

FIREWORKS BILL GIVEN APPROVAL

By J. WILLIAM THEIS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Oct. 18.—Pennsylvania's special session legislators drew $125 pay checks today and prepared to leave the state capital no later than tomorrow on a campaign recess until November 14—barring emergencies.

As house and senate members collected half their remaining salaries, final approval of two recess resolutions awaited house action today. The resolutions—one of them giving the speaker and president pro tempore power to recall the members before November 14—were tabled as the house ended a five-hour night session.

Opposition to the unique "recall" resolution, inasmuch as it was viewed as an instrument to aid the house graft charge committee in enforcing any contempt proceedings that may come up, was anticipated from the Republican house minority.

Bills to restrict or prohibit the sale and use of fireworks throughout the state passed in each house. The Ostroff-Lewis-Brannato house bill, a regulatory one giving licensing powers in the hands of the State Motor police, was approved 155 to 9, after a flurry of debate. The senate measure, prohibitive in scope, passed 39-0 without verbal question.

Wheel Locks During Take-off From Flying Field At Miami

(International News Service) MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 18.—Captain Alexander Papana, Rumanian aviator, crashed in his twin-motored plane here this morning as he was taking off for Curacao, Dutch West Indies, on the second leg of his flight from New York to Bucharest by way of South America and Africa.

Capt. Papana and his flying companion, Max Constant, of Los Angeles, were not injured, and the plane was only slightly damaged in the crash-up. Only the landing gear and one propeller were smashed.

As Capt. Papana was taxiing down the runway for the takeoff, his wheel locked. Damage to the plane was later estimated at approximately $2,000 and it was said it would take about a week to repair the ship.

Hunt Missing Persons In Western Snowstorm

(International News Service) DENVER, Colo., Oct. 18.—Peace officers, Boy Scouts, CCC enrollees and forest employees today resumed search for three persons missing in a snowstorm which swept over Montana and Wyoming.

Temperatures dropped below freezing over the two states and in Colorado's mountain areas, but Denver enjoyed in its 194th successive frostless day, a record equalled only three times in 63 years.

The missing persons are Mrs. Ann Kelly, 60, of Butte, Mont., a WPA employee; Guy Pizer of Pocatello, Idaho; and James Cummings, 22, of East Helena, Mont., hunters.

Air travel between Cheyenne, Wyo., and Salt Lake City was disrupted. One United Air Lines plane which flew from Cheyenne to Salt Lake with 14 passengers and a crew of three was forced by fog to return the entire distance before landing.

William B. Cobb, Jr., and Louis Bailey of Casper, Wyo., high school seniors, were rescued after being stormbound in the Big Horn mountains. Jack Radin, 18, of Sheridan, Wyo., and Albert Benson, 19, were lost in the same area for 20 hours while hunting. Cecil Watt, 32, of Clyde Park, Mont., was found by rescuers after being reported missing.

Former Czechoslovakian President Will Be Chicago University Lecturer

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Dr. Eduard Benes, former president of Czechoslovakia, will lecture on democracy at the University of Chicago. It was announced today after his cablegram of acceptance to a faculty post was received by President Robert M. Hutchins.

President Hutchins was elated by the willingness of Dr. Benes to take the position. He said:

"The university is extremely gratified to know of no one better qualified to expound the significance of democracy in world affairs today, and to arouse interest in democracy."

He added that Dr. Benes will act as a visiting professor under the Charles R. Walgreen foundation. He said the statesman expected to start for the United States in the near future.

Confessed Espionage Witness Makes Sensational Statements In Trial

THREE ON TRIAL IN NEW YORK CITY

Witness Emphasizes Testimony Concerning German War Ministry

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The name of Fritz Von Wiedemann, personal representative of Chancellor Adolf Hitler, was brought into the sensation-studded espionage trial today by Guenther Gustav Rumrich, former U. S. army sergeant who has pleaded guilty to a spy indictment and is the star government witness at the trial of three former fellow-defendants.

Rumrich who previously had linked the German war ministry to the case, declared that during a visit by a mysterious "Mr. Weigand," the latter confided he had "just come from Washington where he talked with Fritz Von Wiedemann."

Emphasizes War Ministry

Erich Glaser and Otto Voss studied the floor and Johanna Hofmann, the third defendant, gazed imperiously around the courtroom as Rumrich testified.

Rumrich emphasized and re-emphasized his testimony concerning the German war ministry under the persuasiveness of government counsel.

Rumrich declared that his immediate and mysterious superior—a shadowy "Sanders" who communicated with him by mail—wrote him that Rumrich demand for assurance of financial support would have to be taken up with the German war ministry.

This disclosure was the highlight of the morning trial session. In addition to Miss Hofmann, the government is seeking convictions against Erich Glaser, a former U. S. army private, and Otto Herman Voss, skilled airplane draftsman.

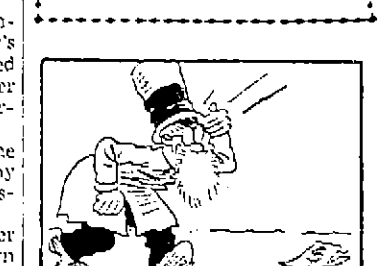

(Editor's Note: Foreign chancelleries know Wiedemann as Hitler's "right hand man." Wiedemann was the chancellor's top-secretary during the World War and their friendship endured after its conclusion. It was Wiedemann who visited London and served upon Prime Minister Chamberlain and Reichsfuehrer's initial demands regarding Czechoslovakia.)

Testimony Tends To Link Germany With Espionage

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Testimony tending to link the German war ministry to the web of espionage and intrigue spun in this country by under-cover agents of Nazi Germany today was placed before a federal jury at the trial of pretty Johanna Hofmann and two alleged confederates.

The testimony was emphasized and re-emphasized by Guenther Gustav Rumrich, former U. S. army sergeant, who already has pleaded guilty to an espionage indictment and is now serving as the star government witness at the dramatic trial.

Hoover Assails New Deal "Yes" Men

Makes Address In Connecticut

Appeals For Election Of Independent Minded Men To Legislatures

URGES DEFEAT OF 100 PER CENT FOLLOWERS

(International News Service) HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 18.—Keynote of the Republican drive to win greater representation in congress today appeared to lie in former President Herbert Hoover's appeal for election of "independent-minded" men who would emanate the legislative arm of the government from the personal domination of Mr. Roosevelt.

The former president's speech under the auspices of the Women's Republican Council of Connecticut was punctuated with such phrases as "sinister aggressions of personal power," "profligate spending," "flagrant moral debauchery" and "creeping collectivism."

"If we examine the fate of wrecked Republics throughout the world, we find their first symptoms in the weakening of the legislative arm," said Hoover. "Subservience in the legislative halls is the spot where liberty and political morals commit suicide."

Pork Barrel Expands
The old-fashioned pork barrel has become a whole pork-packing establishment—all under leadership of the executive."

Hoover cited attempts of President Roosevelt to "purge those men of his own party who have shown sparks of manhood, of independence and obedience to their oath," adding: "That alone should make the election of independent-minded men to congress the first task of men who would be free."

"Defeat every man of the kind who says he is a follower of any President 100 per cent or 50 per cent of any other per cent. Such a man is not fit to serve. Members of the congress of the United States, if they are men, do not take orders from anybody."

The former president assailed the new deal and "its yes-men in congress" who, he stated, have been experimenting for six years "at dreadful cost in human misery and despair."

Senator Davis is passing each other on the Ellwood City highway. Samuel S. Lewis, William S. Livingston, Attorney Louis E. Graham, candidate for congress, and candidates J. Elder Bryan and W. Sharp Fullerton will be on the platforms of the two meetings.

Arrangements for both meetings are completed, according to Captain Rowland. At a meeting of the executive committee of the county committee Monday night various chairmen of sub-committees met with John W. Expect Throng
A crowded house is expected in the Cathedral. While the crowd is gathering inside, the American Legion band will be playing a band concert in the rotunda. At eight o'clock the meeting will open with Captain Rowland as chairman of the evening. Judge W. Walter Brennan will introduce Senator James J. Davis and Judge Thomas W. Dickey will introduce Judge Arthur H. James, Samuel S. Lewis and William S. Livingston. It is barely possible that Mr. Lewis may not get to New Castle as he may be used in some county where the candidates have not yet been.

David Rees will present several solos during the meeting. Judge James will be rushed directly from Ellwood City to New Castle and after finishing at New Castle, Senator Davis will go to Ellwood City. In this way two complete mass meetings will be held with the same men speaking at both.

No political meeting in New Castle in years has been arranged more carefully and comprehensively than the one scheduled for Wednesday night. It is expected the entire Cathedral auditorium will be filled to capacity. Neither Judge James nor Senator Davis are silk glove speakers. They have pulled no punches in the campaign and speak from the shoulder.

The big maple trees up on Lincoln avenue are beginning to show embarrassment. Their limbs are getting so bare.

Most everybody seems to be looking for contentment and peace of mind. That's one reason why so many pension schemes are floating around. Folks sort of feel that if they had nothing to do but whistle wood, and the money coming in every month, they'd be happy. Maybe they would, some people are easily satisfied.

We always marvel when we see an apple tree producing several kinds of apples, some sweet and some sour, but all fed from the same sap. What's the use in planting an orchard when you can get everything from one tree?

Pa New often wonders who invented the word "hash." It's a harsh sounding name for a mighty good dish, but there's something about the name that suggests dog food. Call hash by some more enticing name and our eaters' fondness will be kept busy.

Work is being done on Route 551 between Mt. Jackson and Edenburg, although traffic is being maintained. Oiling is being done on Route 18, between New Castle and Walmoo. Construction is being maintained while work is in progress between Neshannock Falls and Vancos Cross Roads on state route 956.

According to County Superintendent of Schools John C. Sylling, one of the biggest problems in the rural district at the present time is what to do to get rid of the swarms of wasps which have been invading the school buildings and practically disrupting classes. About this time of the year, the wasps seem to migrate indoors where it is warmer, and in some cases it is difficult to determine how they get in. Not only school buildings, but private homes have been invaded. Yesterday was a particularly good day for them, it seemed, and every building visited in the southern half of the county seemed afflicted, some to the extent that pupils and teachers were driven to distraction, although the wasps did not seem inclined to molest anyone.

Several children riding their bicycles and playing on Sheridan avenue yesterday were endangered when some careless person walking along the sidewalk threw a lighted cigarette into a pile of dry leaves and started a fire. It took some time for this fire to be put out. At this time of year there are huge piles of dry leaves on the ground and people who smoke should be more careful of where they throw cigarette or cigar butts, in order to prevent these fires.

Oil City Speakers Praise Work It Does; Minister Heard

Oil City's Community Fund sent two speakers to address New Castle Rotarians on Community Fund work at their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton yesterday. Rev. Edward Kuhlman, pastor of the Good Hope Lutheran church there and chaplain of the Oil City Rotary club, gave the principal address. He was introduced by A. M. Turner, general secretary of the Oil City Y. M. C. A. and vice president of the Rotary organization there.

Rev. Kuhlman, in a direct-to-the-point, inspiring message which depicted the Community Chest as "the society of the enclosing circle" told his audience that "Community fund work is not only good Rotary, good citizenship, but also good Christianity."

He declared that it involves "the spirit of sacrifice."

In introducing Rev. Kuhlman, Turner, look a Community Fund leader in Oil City, reported that for several years now that town has supported a 12-agency community fund and put over drives for $70,000 annually.

Louis B. Rung, member of the club here, urged all Rotarians to be present at the Fred L. Rantz testimonial dinner on Tuesday, November 1, he urged them, too, to in turn urge their friends to be there. Rantz will be honored at that time, as New Castle's First Citizen.

The club yesterday noted a $100 contribution to the 1938 Community Chest Drive here. The local campaign opens Monday, October 24.

Tomorrow Is Almira Home Donation Day

Tomorrow, October 19, is the annual food donation day for the Almira Home, and residents of the city and county are asked to make to the home donations of jelly, canned goods or staple groceries.

It matters not whether the donation be just one glass of jelly; every bit helps and will be appreciated. The food gifts should be left at the Almira Home, on East Washington street at Almira avenue, where committee women will be located all day to receive them. If it is possible to take your gifts to the home, call 662 and one of the committee women will send for them.

THOUSANDS TO ATTEND MASS

Mundelein, papal legate of his Holiness Pope Pius XI, will celebrate the mass. The sermon will be delivered by the Most Reverend Edward Mooney, archbishop of Detroit. His topic will be: "I am the way, the truth and the life" (John 14:6).

Civic Reception
Nearly 25,000 persons jammed the municipal auditorium last night when a civic reception was tendered to Cardinal Mundelein and visiting prelates. Cardinals, archbishops, bishops and monsignors in colorful robes sat on a stage pitched in the center of the auditorium. A huge figure of Christ on the cross was erected in the center of the platform. A sea of faces looked down at various speakers came to the microphone and talked through the public address system.

The meeting was opened by the Right Reverend Peter M. H. Wymhoven, acting chairman of the congress. Hymns and religious songs were sung by the assemblage.

Postmaster General James A. Farley and Governor Richard W. Leche of Louisiana were prominent among the lay speakers. Farley came to the congress as the personal representative of President Roosevelt.

NATURE'S BEAUTY

At this time of year Nature has done her part and OAK PARK CEMETERY Directors over the last forty years have aided in planting and caring for hundreds of beautiful trees and shrubs.

If you are a lover of the beauty in coloring we suggest that you drive through OAK PARK CEMETERY and see the results of Nature.

Another real feature is the nature of the ground—so well drained, and of gravel composition, that a WET GRAVE in OAK PARK CEMETERY is IMPOSSIBLE. This is of great importance in selecting a burial plot. Dry ground, and be sure you get just that.

Nemo Revealed Shortest Street In New Castle; Washington Longest

This city has a short and a long thoroughfare, the shortest being Nemo street and the longest, Washington street.

Nemo street is one half block long and is situated between Produce and Grove streets.

It is aligned by produce houses, a few residences and a barn, according to Neal Williams of the city engineer's office.

Washington street, from the west to the east city line, is approximately three miles long. In the downtown section it is the main business section of the city.

One of the next shortest streets is Neal street, which is between Produce and Grove streets.

Mill street-Highland avenue, which extend in a straight north and south course, is not quite so long as Washington street, according to Williams.

"FEDERATION DAY" IS READING CIRCLE THEME

"Federation Day" was the theme of the meeting of the Reading Circle members when they assembled at the home of Miss Ella McDermott on Monday afternoon. Twenty six members were in attendance and each one brought a donation for the Alms House.

After the business was transacted, Mrs. W. E. Ferver presided, turned the meeting over to Mrs. I. M. Henry, who had charge of the program.

Mrs. O. J. Shaffer gave an interesting discussion on the "Growth of the Federation" and the Reading Circle, making her speech more entertaining by short discussions from the diary of the Federation.

Mrs. John Street gave a talk from parts of the diary from 1927 on, showing the accomplishments of the New Castle order.

At 3:30 o'clock, a radio discussion was turned on, from Pittsburgh, given by Mrs. T. Earl McGee, state president of the organization, which brought the afternoon activities to a close.

Names Wedding Date
Miss Theresa Nicoletti, daughter of Paul Nicoletti, 1204 Butler avenue, announces Friday, November 11, as the date of her marriage to Romeo Pisegna, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Pisegna, 610 Spearman street, Farrell.

The wedding will take place at 4 p. m. in St. Paul's Episcopal church in Farrell.

Parsonage Society
On Monday evening the Parsonage society of the Matland Memorial Primitive Methodist church had a business and social time, the last until next January. Hostesses of the evening were Mrs. Ruth Hemphill and Mrs. George Smith. The program, largely impromptu, was highly enjoyable.

REV. ROBERT LAING ADDRESSES DEPARTMENT

Rev. Robert Laing of Pittsburgh, was the guest speaker at the informal meeting of the Educational Department, Woman's club, which took place Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Highland U. P. church. For his subject he chose the "Conquest of Jerusalem." Rev. Laing served under Major-General Allenby and took part in the last crusade in the holy city.

He brought out the fact that General Allenby was an ardent Christian and Bible student and that his troops and their squadrons were led over the identical route on which Moses led the children of Israel out of Egypt. General Allenby taught his men to study the Biblical maps and they were used entirely for the crusade.

Rev. Laing told also of several things in these crusades which were symbolic with the teaching in the Bible. He closed his fine talk with the hope and plea that there would be no more crosses on foreign soil, and that, if necessary, we would protect our shores but not take part in other wars. His closing thought was that the real solution for peace is the peace that Christ left.

Mrs. William Morgan, chairman of the department, presided over the meeting. She announced an executive committee that will serve with her for the year. It includes Mrs. E. L. Thompson, vice chairman of the department; Mrs. Carrie Gentry, Mrs. Wilfred Thomas, Mrs. Earl Dufford and Mrs. Roy Snyder. Mrs. Snyder will have charge of the calling list. The department will have a three-fold purpose this year, education, library and movies.

Progressive Bridge
A meeting of the members of the Progressive Bridge club will be held Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. John Burns, West Moody avenue.

DAUGHTERS OF 1812 GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. Marvin Dinsmore, Highland Heights, entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Saturday for the New Castle Perry Chapter, United States Daughters of 1812, the luncheon preceding their first meeting of the 1938-39 season. Fall flowers were used in decorating.

The meeting convened at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Dinsmore presiding and she stated the options of two real daughters, Mrs. A. B. McCready and Mrs. Samantha Sherbondy, who were unable to be present.

"National Defense" was the subject discussed. The president, national, Mrs. Arthur J. O'Neill, quotes, "Our national defense of this time is more important than ever before."

On November 19, Miss Sara Wallace, Meyer avenue, will be hostess to the society.

NEW CASTLE CHAPTER TO HONOR MRS. HENLEY

Plans are being made by New Castle Chapter, No. 105, Order of Eastern Star, for a dinner and official inspection to take place next Monday evening, October 24, in honor of the District Deputy Grand Matron, Mrs. Jean Henley.

Reservations, which are being received not later than Friday, are in charge of Mrs. Jennie Martin, Englewood avenue, and Mrs. Fern Simons, Northview avenue.

MRS. L. W. GROSSMAN TO RECEIVE GROUPS

The opening meeting of the department of Conservations and Gardens, Woman's club, Mrs. C. Lee Mellinger, chairman, will be held on Wednesday afternoon, October 19, at 2 o'clock in the home of Mrs. L. W. Grossman, 269 Winter avenue.

Mrs. Olive Hewitt will be the guest speaker for the day and her subject will be "Conservation Possibilities Through Federal Projects." Mrs. Harry Sturdevant will speak on "Fall Bouquets."

All members of the Woman's club are invited to attend this meeting.

LOCAL WOMEN ATTEND SHRINE MEET AT SHARON

On Monday evening, a group of local women, all members of the Martha Shrine, No. 14, motored to Sharon, where they were guests at their Shrine lodge, in the Odd Fellows hall.

Included in the party were the following: Ella Bailey, Mrs. Mary Owens, Mrs. Edna Crane, Mrs. Flora Morrell, Mrs. Flora Gibson, Mrs. Lona Gray and Mrs. Minnie Shaffer. Following the completion of the meeting, a social period was enjoyed, with refreshments being served.

On Thursday evening of this week, the local Martha Shrine membership will gather with their officers at the Cathedral for a 6 o'clock dinner party. Mrs. Lona Gray is chairman, with Mrs. Estelle Weddell, co-chairman, and their committee of aides, taking charge.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB WILL MEET THURSDAY

The October meeting for the Junior Woman's club is slated for Thursday, the twentieth, and will take place in the home of Mrs. David Nesbitt, Cottage Grove.

An interesting program has been planned for this date, in addition to the usual routine of business.

1938 Quilting Club
Mrs. Goldie Gillespie was hostess to members of the 1938 Quilting club when they met at her home on Clayton street for their regular meeting.

Games of 500 were enjoyed and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Susie Wade and Mrs. Helen Ray, respectively. The hostess served a tasty lunch at the tables at a later hour and she was assisted by her daughter, Dorothy, and Mrs. Ethel Thompson.

Mrs. Nellie Houk will receive the members at her home on South Ray street in two weeks on October 26.

N. C. T. The N. C. T. club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. Jones on Cunningham avenue on Wednesday evening.

"Fashions" Highlight Meet Of Woman's Club Monday

Woman's club members had a delightful meeting Monday afternoon in Highland U. P. church for a subject providing keen interest for every woman, "Fashions" was the theme of the afternoon's program.

The American Home and Citizenship department, Mrs. R. L. Melvin, chairman, and Mrs. R. S. Ramsey, vice chairman, sponsored the entertainment, both educational and pleasurable. They were aided by Mrs. C. S. Balph, Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, Mrs. J. L. Vogan and Mrs. W. A. Woodworth. Hostesses were Mrs. E. L. Thompson and Mrs. Harry Grant.

Miss Lena R. Ashenberg of Youngstown, an authoritative stylist, was the guest speaker, having for her subject "Expressing Your Personality in Costume and Home." She divided her talk into three phases, advising women first, "to choose clothes that do something for you; second, let home furnishings serve as a background for your family and you; third, take color schemes from nature. Add to these valuable suggestions that indefinable something which is called Charm, it, Glamour, Chic, Distinction or Personality. Combine these attributes and you have expressed your own personality, that is the YOU as others see you."

"The test for good clothes," declared Miss Ashenberg, "is further summed up in Margaret Byers' new book, 'Designing Women.' 'The wearer must believe wholeheartedly in the smartness and suitability of her costume and then forget about it... but the beholder must be kept constantly aware of how lovely the wearer looks.' This is the epitome of good taste."

Miss Ashenberg herself was a striking example of the subject upon which she spoke for she has a vivid personality, with plenty of "it" and she put over her talk with vim.

To illustrate her remarks, she had the cooperation of several members of the Woman's club upon whom she tested out her color theories with various-colored chiffons. This group was comprised of Mrs. E. G. Diefenderfer, Mrs. L. Sandler, Mrs. A. B. Foster, Mrs. Ben S. Agnew and Mrs. James Rhodes.

The following part of the program was in with the stylist's topic, the department in charge presenting a parade of costumes of yesterday up to today. Mrs. C. R. Balph, in costume, was the announcer and those taking part and the guests were: Mrs. W. P. Felch in a black gown and small black bonnet belonging to Mrs. C. J. Kirk. Mrs. Felch sang two lovely solos, "The Second Minuet" and "Love's Old Sweet Song." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lyle Hughes.

Mrs. O. E. Flora wore an old-fashioned dress which formerly belonged to a great-grandmother of Mrs. R. C. Melvin, an 1830 creation. One of the year of 1858, the wedding dress of Mrs. Aden Strilmaier Woodworth, was modeled by Mrs. Clarence Davis. It had a voluminous skirt with yards and yards of taffeta and tight bodice.

Mrs. Charles E. Allen was quaint in a costume of 1875 which had been worn by the grandmother of Mrs. Gula Hess, Mrs. Gilbert Cox had on a gown of her mother's, made in 1880. Mrs. Andrew Dietterle, modeling a style of 1860, and Mrs. Vernon Bright one of 1895, sang a duet, "Long, Long Ago," most appropriate.

An 1855 style was worn by Mrs. Andrew Dadds, the all black costume and plumed hat being set off with a becoming high collar. 1893—Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, wearing an attractive mode made for the mother of William E. Ferver when she attended the World's Fair.

Mrs. H. W. French appeared in a purple satin gown and huge "Merry Widow" hat, the property of Miss Dell Davidson. Mrs. John Haven pictured a dress of 1884, and Mrs. William Margraf one of the 1888 period. Fashions of 1913 and 1916 were paraded by Mrs. L. S. Royston, Mrs. Clarence Davis and Mrs. S. G. Ligo. Mrs. James Rush, attired in a dress of Mrs. J. Norman Martin's, contributed two solos, "The Nightingale" and "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes."

Bringing the mode up to today, Mrs. C. R. Balph modeled an all black afternoon ensemble, what the well-dressed woman of 1938 will wear. Her outfit was a silk crepe jacket, dress, embroidered with jet beads over which she donned a Tuxedo rough fabric box coat with silver fox trim. A velvet high hat with silver fox pom pom, and matching accessories, completed the costume.

Preceding the main program of the afternoon, Miss Margaret Bendisline, executive secretary of the Lawrence county chapter Red Cross, spoke in behalf of her work here. She expressed appreciation among other things for splendid cooperation from the board of directors and local citizens in building up the Lawrence county organization.

In conclusion, the assemblage sang "Home Sweet Home" with Mrs. W. A. Woodworth, in charge of music, leading, and Mrs. Lyle Hughes, accompanist.

Plans are completed for the regular sewing session to take place at the Jameson Memorial Hospital on Wednesday morning from 8 until 12 o'clock in the Solarium.

The groups in charge will be the Lawrence County Medical Society, with Mrs. E. J. Henderson, president and The Girls Club, with Mrs. R. B. Jameson, president.

Mrs. Donald Lusk is cutter for the day.

It is urged that other women interested, join these group on this occasion, as much sewing is to be accomplished. A cordial invitation is extended to all those interested to be present and share their services.

RAINBOW GIRLS PLAN INITIATION TOMORROW

On Wednesday evening, the New Castle Assembly No. 1, Order of Rainbow for Girls, will initiate in the East room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, for their initiation ceremony, the time being set for 7:30 o'clock sharp.

Worthy advisor, Mary Keefe, will be in charge, and preceding the ceremonial, a short business meeting will take place.

On this occasion, invitations are extended only to Masonic members and all Eastern Star members to attend. A class of thirteen will be initiated at this time.

DINNER-MEETING FOR ART TEACHERS FRIDAY

The Lawrence County Art Association is sponsoring the dinner for art teachers and their friends at the Castleton Lounge at 12:30 on Friday.

After the dinner the Art Association of the P. S. E. A. will hold its annual meeting in room 207 of the senior high school at 1:45 p. m.

Following the election of officers John P. Boyles, of the Shenango Pottery will speak on "Commercial Ceramic Art" and have exhibit of pottery. A. Doucet, president of Eastern State Teachers' College will also speak.

Club Is Postponed

Meeting of the Good Neighbors club that was scheduled for Thursday evening, has been postponed indefinitely.

Pandoras Club

Members of the Pandoras club will meet Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Floyd Champ, on Luton street.

SEWING WEDNESDAY AT JAMESON HOSPITAL

Plans are completed for the regular sewing session to take place at the Jameson Memorial Hospital on Wednesday morning from 8 until 12 o'clock in the Solarium.

The groups in charge will be the Lawrence County Medical Society, with Mrs. E. J. Henderson, president and The Girls Club, with Mrs. R. B. Jameson, president.

Mrs. Donald Lusk is cutter for the day.

It is urged that other women interested, join these group on this occasion, as much sewing is to be accomplished. A cordial invitation is extended to all those interested to be present and share their services.

SPEAKER ADDRESSES SIGMA DELTA CH'S

"Beauty Culture" was the subject chosen by Mrs. A. S. Miller when she spoke before the Sigma Delta Ch's Monday evening at their meeting in the home of Miss Sallie Wilson, Young street.

Mrs. Miller was introduced, following the business session, by the club president, Isobel Douglas. During her talk she emphasized care of the hair and the new upward hair trend, and told each individual member how her hair should be worn. The talk proved both interesting and helpful to the club members.

Arrangements were made for a candy sale to be held in the near future, and plans were discussed for the initiation of the new members which will take place at the October 31 meeting in the home of Miss Geraldine Haddell, Leisure avenue.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening by the hostess, aided by her mother, Mrs. E. C. Wilson.

ART—WHAT IS IT?

"If THAT'S art, then I don't like it!" is the layman's reaction to the award by judges at this year's Carnegie International Exhibition of the $1000 first prize to Berlin Artist Karl Hofer for his grotesque masterpiece, "Wind."

And thus the never-ending argument of "What is Art?" is taken up where it was left off a year ago when judges awarded first honors and the $1000 check to a Frenchman, Georges Braque, for his fantastic "The Yellow Cloth."

One fact must be admitted—this year's first-place painting is considerable improvement over last year's. The McKeesport News asserts. You can at least distinguish what the Hofer painting is all about. But that's about as far as we, knowing as little about art as we do, can go in its praise.

Last year's "Yellow Cloth" looked like the materialization of a drunken dream. Hofer's "Wind" offers a pictorialization of two ugly, emaciated women, their apparently nude bodies partly covered by a tarpaulin which flaps in the gale. It would have been an appropriate painting under the heading of "Refugees From Spain."

Said one critic:
"Is it worth first prize? Certainly not! 'Wind' belongs in a circus, rather than the art gallery. It is lugubrious, tricky and melodramatic. It is negation of beauty."

Another speaks:
"We wonder if the jury really like it or if they made a gesture to insure 'international amity', since this is the first time Germany ever rated first prize. Whatever its purpose, the painting leaves us . . . cold."

Thus the International judges have succeeded, as in past years, to stir up sufficient controversy to focus the public's attention on the Pittsburgh exhibition. We wonder if that, after all, hasn't been the purpose of the peculiar selections.

THE PROPAGANDA RECORD

Members of the Roosevelt Administration have repeatedly been disturbed by the use of what they call propaganda to criticize the New Deal's policies and record, and the State Department was especially irked when the shoe manufacturers in the United States protested a reciprocal trade treaty with Czechoslovakia which lowered the tariff rate on foreign shoes. In this case, one of many in which the department has shown ire, it was charged the industry was using propaganda.

The attitude of the Administration in this respect was criticized editorially by the Baltimore Sun, which declared:
"When, further, the President assails Mr. Sloan for stating his views in a message to stockholders, at the expense of stockholders for postage, you never would suppose that Mr. Roosevelt maintains in Washington at the taxpayers' expense a propaganda machine whose cost probably exceeds the total cost for publicity of all Presidents from Washington to Hoover inclusive."

"How much Federal publicity is there?" asks the writer of an article in the Public Opinion Quarterly, and in answering declares in part, "One of the difficulties in making a resume of publicity activities of the Federal Government is that many activities which are not classed as publicity actually are so." This admission comes from a member of the staff of the Library of Congress, Cedric Larson, who cites the fact that the Department of Agriculture appropriated $1,474,770 for publicity in 1938. "But besides there are publicity offices in each of the 18 administrations, services and bureaus in the department spending altogether some $10,000,000 a year on agricultural publicity through the printed page, the radio and the motion picture. The department, moreover, has some 3,000 demonstrations agents scattered throughout America who distribute department publicity to local papers and magazines."

After listing books issued by Ickes, Hopkins, Wallace, Cummings and others, this student of Federal publicity ventures the opinion that "the number of publicity experts in the Federal Government will increase rather than decrease." In 1939 the use of penalty and franking privileges in government mailing was valued at $8,169,000; last year at $34,000,000.

TROUBLE AT NORVELT

Westmoreland county reports a funny strike. Employees of a garment factory built to provide jobs for one of the Government's experimental communities are striking against themselves. They are all stockholders.

The name of this community is "Norvelt," made up from the last syllables of Mrs. Roosevelt's name. It is one of her pet projects.

When something over 100 houses were built it was discovered that there was no employment for the residents. Then someone thought up the idea of assessing each of the residents $5 for stock in the Westmoreland Community Enterprises, Inc. The Government loaned the corporation $200,000 to build and equip a factory. The stock was surrendered as collateral for the loan—$615 worth of stock for $250,000. Swell business for the Government!

Then the concern was turned over to a New York manufacturing garment company. July last the factory started to turn out pants. Soon there was a murmur. The girls were paid 20 cents an hour. They said they were promised 25 cents with an advance to 35 cents this month. Then the CIO came in demanding a union, a closed shop, and check-off of union dues. The union appointed a grievance committee which took its troubles to the management. The committee says it was snubbed. Hence the strike.

"We're nothing but stool pigeons for the Government," says one of the strikers. "We have nothing to do with the management of the company. The Government holds our stock as collateral and is voting it."

So there you are. The Government has over a million dollars invested in homes and $200,000 in a plant and a strike—with the dear taxpayers paying the cost of another experiment in the More Abundant Life—Oil City Derrick.

It's o. k. to dunk doughnuts, says Mrs. Emily Post, unless the coffee has been poured in the saucer.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACHER SHOULD KNOW PUPILS

By this time, let us hope, the teacher of your child knows him and all his classmates by name. The teacher with only one group of not more than forty children should learn to address them by name at the end of the first week of school, or earlier. But for the teacher who, during a week, must teach from one to 300 pupils or students, the task of learning them by name is not easy. She generally learns first the names of those who give her trouble or who excel in studies and school citizenship. Many teachers, even those who must meet in the course of each week not more than 100 children, give up the task of learning their names as hopeless.

Many a child is assigned a grade on his report card which belongs to another child. It is very distressing to a parent, on talking about her child to the teacher, to discover that this teacher does not know her child by name. How does the child feel? How do you and I feel when persons to whom we are responsible say after day don't know our names?

The good salesman learns one's name right away and remembers it. It means dollars and cents to him. He knows we are more ready to buy from him if he suggests to us we are so important as to be remembered by name. The teacher is a salesman, too, if she only knew it. She does best when she makes her pupils feel she respects them as individuals. The child learns best and acts best toward those he likes best. He likes best those who make him feel most worthwhile. The teacher tends to do so if she addresses him by his real name.

I wish every teacher who is not able to call every one of her students, whether in the grades, high school or college, by name, would set a date when he or she would be sure to have learned every one of them. It can be done and it's worth the effort. I can think of no better investment of time and effort. Indeed, it is one of the minimum essentials to successful teaching.

Any person with enough mentality to win a teacher's certificate ought to be able to learn the names of her pupils. She can if she really cares.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

DON'T DESTROY IT

Germans, Doctors and chemists are responsible for no end of long, many syllabled words. Here is one that has just come to my attention—Dichlorodifluoromethane.

The ice-making refrigerator people wanted a non-toxic, non-inflammable liquid which would boil at well below freezing point of water, and the chemists set to work producing Dichlorodifluoromethane, which the chemical industry is already shipping in tank-car lots.

In American industry there are many such monuments to initiative. In the first place, up until 1932, at least, the American was induced to believe that he could make and save capital; that it was necessary for him to save something for his old age; that he was a free agent and that what he accomplished would result in his own personal benefit and so in nearly every field, initiative and the desire for higher living standards have developed our natural resources and created wealth—national and individual.

If the present Administration has not entirely wrecked us, these factors will remain active and wealth in the long run will continue to grow, despite periods of hesitation and uncertainty. It behooves every citizen to see to it that nothing within his power shall help to destroy the incentives to individual effort.

What's What At A Glance

Two Parties To Continue
Blocs Will Prove Useful
Maintain An Even Balance

By CHARLES F. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—

Postmaster General James A. Farley doubtless is right in his prediction that the United States will remain a "two-party" country indefinitely. That is to say, it probably will continue to be run by only two parties with recognized names of their own and cohesive enough to hold national conventions of any consequence.

What the P. M. G. seems to me not to take into account is the fact that, while we do not have, in congress, a number of explicitly designated blocs, we do have the blocs. We have a number of them. Their various members all are roughly classed, respectively as Democrats or Republicans. Really, however, both major memberships are considerably split up. If this were Europe, each sub-group would have a particular label, distinguishing it from all others. Here we don't acknowledge such differences; all hands are spoken of as Democrats or Republicans, with an occasional freak independent.

Yes, we do have blocs, as truly as France's national assembly, which recognizes a dozen or 15.

How They Classify

Illustratively, Vice President John N. Garner and Senators Harry F. Byrd, Carter Glass, Millard E. Tydings and Josiah W. Bailey, plus several others, constitute a bloc, as unlike the Alben W. Barkley-Homer T. Bone-Claude Pepper-Elmer Thomas et al. bloc as day is unlike night. If Senators Glass and Pepper are fellow Democrats, sheep are goats.

Senators Warren R. Austin, Ernest W. Gibson and Frederick Hale, with a handful of supporters, so-called Republicans, are a bloc. They're a lot like Senators William E. Borah, Arthur Capper and Lynn J. Frazier, also supposedly Republicans, aren't they? Echo answers vociferously in the negative.

Then there are a few rascals, like Senators Robert M. La Follette, Henrik Shipstead, Ernest Lundeen and George W. Norris. They're another bloc—if they can stick together. If not, they're four additional blocs.

That makes five or ten senate "blocs" alone. The House of Representatives is equally bloc-ish.

And P. M. G. Farley calls this a two-party country!

It's a very annoying situation to professional politicians, but for a "democrat" like "Jim" Farley so frames things up that, as Democrats say, "it's the way it is."

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Libertarians of England have made much of the line in Chescon's poem, "We are the people of England, and we have not spoken yet." Will they have any opportunity to speak? Or will they find themselves caught up in the new shirred multitudes in which one speaks safely only to himself?

There has been much loose talk of Britain and France going faster in the old-time brand of democracy, long after the tumult of the loud-speaker dies and the captains and the kings have blown themselves through a tin horn.

There is still a powerful hangover of Watt Tyler and Nottingham Hill in old England, and a similar carry-over of the old up-and-at-'em spirit of free men in France.

I once went away wrong on England. It's a nation of "me too" men. I thought, noting the obsequiousness of the British, that they were going to get up and jerking off their cap on the slightest provocation. They seemed ripe for an iron man. Then, at the hotel, there was a row. A gaudy Balkan millionaire had been shoving a porter around. These abject, flat-chested little porters suddenly became a careful of wildcats.

They marched into the boss and told him that if he didn't treat them like "bloody" little porters, they would. The boss hastily gave the trouble-maker the gate.

I understood the British better after that. This sometimes exaggerated deference of the underling and the haughtiness of the upper classes is all of a piece with their masterly symbolisms. They treat the king as if he really had power and they defer to their "betters" as if they really considered them superior beings. These are amenities and genuflections to an old and stable ordering of life, but the underlying realities are essentially the deepening of democracy. And in my opinion, there is enduring vitality in British democracy.

But they may have to watch their step. I confess I was jolted by those stories from London about the new press censorship. J. H. Brebner is made Controller of Press and Publications for the Post Office Department, according to news reports. All departments of the government have "public relations" officers who, in time of stress would be under control of the Ministry of Information.

There is also a story that a prominent advertising man had been hired by the Conservative Party to put on a high-pressure publicity campaign for "Liberty" by Neville Chamberlain's foreign policy. There is a rush to install telephones and elevators, connected with newspapers and press association, in the offices of the Board of Education.

Perhaps somebody will "say it" so. There is, of course, a possible reservation in that these may be urgent war preparations. But the state control or suppression of a free press is disquietingly symptomatic of the start of absolutism, in one of its supposedly new but essentially ancient forms. The dictators pay a great tribute to free newspapers as the lifeblood of democracy. Their first onslaught is invariably on the free press. Obviously they couldn't get so first base, with a free courageous and enlightened press telling the truth about them. If fascism looms in England, they can throw a switch on it right now by keeping their newspapers free.

I have heard much talk recently about England and France "tying down" before Hitler's advance down the Danube. But is considerably cheaper over here than it is over there—with bombing planes only an hour or two away, wherever you might stick a pin on the map. I have an idea that, under similar circumstances, we too, would go to desperate extremes to keep out of war. At best, our indignation over democracy's defeat at the hands of the dictators is a delayed reaction.

In 1932, when Henry L. Stimson, Hoover's Secretary of State, tried to stop Japan's move to the Asiatic mainland, and warned the world of the breakdown of international law, he was a voice crying in the wilderness. But we know now that was the time for the democratic powers to get their back up. There are many who think it is now too late. I don't think so. I agree with Thomas Mann about the "Coming Victory of Democracy."

Words of Wisdom

Learning is wealth to the poor, an honor to the rich, an aid to the young, and a support and comfort to the aged.—Lavater.

Correct this sentence: "The others surrendered their purses when he threatened to shoot them," said the critic, "and that proves him a great man."

Hapless Waifs Aided Thru Community Chest

Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of articles to familiarize the public with the activities of various local agencies assisted by the New Castle Community Chest.

"Suffer the little children to come unto me—for theirs is the kingdom of heaven."

These words of Jesus Christ typify most clearly the exemplification of the virtue of charity, most pleasing to Him, is the aiding of helpless orphan children.

This service to God, in New Castle, centers around the Margaret L. Henry Home, where thousands of little waifs have been tenderly cared for through the beneficence of the Community Chest.

Founded in 1903 by Miss Henry, the home has cared for more than 3,000 destitute children. At present there are 35 boys and girls in the institution, ranging in ages from two and a half to 17 years.

Miss Henry has been superintendent of the home since it was founded. Each year she has looked to the Community Chest for the financial aid, which makes it possible for her to carry on her noble work. This year the need is even greater than it has been during the years of the trying depression.

"I don't know what we would do were it not for the Community Chest," Miss Henry said today. "Our only alternative would be the solicitation of funds through a door-to-door canvass. This has been unnecessary in years past because we have received a part of every dollar donated to the Community Chest."

A visit to the home, located in the old Cunningham mansion, 520 Friendship street, would convince the most skeptical of the worthiness of its existence and bring fuller appreciation of the benefit derived from a donation to the Community Chest.

There are 20 rooms in the home which include three dormitories, a playroom, study rooms and a dining room. In addition there is a fine playground on the property. Three of the youngsters in the home today are high school students.

An idea of the wonderful work the home is doing may be gleaned from the heart-rending story of a family which recently lost its home after the father was laid off work in one of the local industries. Seven children in the family were sent to the Margaret L. Henry home where their every want was cared for during the 12 months it took to rehabilitate the hapless family group.

Another example, well-known to the people of New Castle, is the youngster who has been at the home since 1930 when death claimed both his parents. And these parents had both served in the World War.

Assisting Miss Henry are Mrs. Lida Green, Miss Lillian Homish, and Miss May Stanilla. Thomas Marcola is caretaker.

The Community Chest drive this year opens on Monday, October 24th. Think of the Margaret L. Henry Home when making your donation!

GUILD PLAYERS TO BOW TONIGHT

Make Debut in 'Fresh Fields' At Washington School Auditorium

The 1938-39 play season of the New Castle Civic Theater Guild opens tonight when a talented, well-rehearsed cast of players presents the three-act comedy, "Fresh Fields," in the auditorium of George Washington Junior-Senior high school.

The curtain will rise at 8:30. Under the direction of Mrs. John McIlwraith, long prominent in local dramatic circles, the three-act production promises to be an exceptionally good play. Amusing situations, sparkling wit and clever dialogue characterize the play throughout. Professional and experienced amateurs make up the cast.

The play tonight is the first of five scheduled to be given by the Guild during the season.

Robert W. Turner, business manager of the group, announced today that all types of plays are to be given and that all play material and theatrical needs are to be purchased here.

Veterans Hear Col. Woodside

Issues Of Campaign Are Discussed At Meeting At Court House

REPUBLICAN VICTORY URGED IN NOVEMBER

Veterans of two wars filled court room number one of the Lawrence County court house Monday night to hear Colonel Robert Woodside of Pittsburgh speak on the issues of the present state wide political campaign. Among the crowd were former infantrymen, artillerymen, aviators, sailors, all branches of the armed forces of the United States.

Ivor V. Davis was the chairman of the meeting and opened with pep singing and the number was "Tipperary" the one the boys used to work over in camp during the war. Captain Roger W. Roland, chairman of the county committee, was the first speaker introduced and in a few brief remarks asked for the cooperation of the vets in making possible the success of the Republican ticket.

Major Guy J. Wedlinger and Attorney William J. Caldwell were introduced and spoke briefly, both of them showing that with one or two minor exceptions every law benefiting the ex-service man had been put through by Republicans. The fact that the Democratic Economy Bill which slashed grants to disabled service men was passed under Roosevelt was also brought out.

Col. Robert Woodside

Lester McClelland was called upon to introduce Col. Woodside and he did so briefly and effectively. Opening his speech Col. Woodside said: "Under the New Deal the Democrats promised economy to this country and the only economy we got was the Economy Bill which had for its sole purpose the slashing of veterans' compensations, grants to the disabled and to the widows and orphans."

"When Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected I wanted to help him put into effect good laws, although I didn't vote for him, but I soon found out that the New Deal had ideas that did not coincide with mine in the matter of good government."

"Understand me, not all of the objectives of the New Deal are bad. As Republicans we are not against every objective of the New Deal, but we are against the machinery which has been set up to enforce those objectives. Here in this state we have Joe Guiffy and Davey Law, men mouthing support of the New Deal. Did anybody ever hear of their being for idealistic government before Roosevelt got in?"

"As a man I have always liked Charles Alvin Jones, but he is in bad company. He cannot escape the bossism of Lawrence and if he were elected he would do the same thing as Earle has done. Jones pretends about being an ex-service man but from the close of the World war until he was nominated for governor he did not think enough of the service men to join one of the veteran organizations, then he jumped in."

"As service men we are interested in our country as much in peace as we were in war. We cannot stand the present Democratic mis-administration any longer. The veterans are awake, they are alive to the kind of government we have had for four years in Pennsylvania and they intend to do something about it on November 8."

Methodist Church Union Completed

(International News Service)

MADISON, Ind. Oct. 18.—The three great branches of the Methodist church—the Methodist Episcopal church, South, the Methodist Episcopal church, and the Methodist Protestant church—were united Monday for the first time in more than a century.

Representatives of the three branches of the church founded by John Wesley met as one here to celebrate the reunion. It marked the unification under one church government of more than 8,000,000 members, making the denomination the largest Protestant organization in the world.

Bishop Edgar Blake of Detroit, representing the Methodist Episcopal church, was the principal speaker at the overflow meeting held in the Madison High school gymnasium.

Auspicious Occasion

"To me this is a very auspicious occasion and a significant day," Bishop Blake said. "I'm not sure that delay in bringing about the unification was not providential. It marks the unification of Christian forces to meet conditions in the world."

Describing himself as a "Jeffersonian Democrat and a Lincolnian Republican" Bishop Blake recalled that during his more than 40 years in the ministry, he had worked to unification of all Methodism. He expressed belief that neither political nor religious leadership was adequate today to meet the needs.

Madison was selected for the celebration because it shared honors with Louisville, Ky., as the gateway for Methodism to the North.

R. L. McCREARY HOME
SCENE OF ANNIVERSARY

Delightfully informal was the surprise event tendered a prominent couple, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCreary, when 25 of their closest friends gathered Monday evening in their home near East Brook. They planned the event as a medium of celebrating their 40th wedding anniversary.

When the excitement had subsided, attention was given to a series of informal pastimes. Highlighting the social period was the viewing of pictures of the long ago of Mr. and Mrs. McCreary on their farm, leading up to the present, which told a most interesting story to the guests. This was conducted by Mrs. Jerry Hammond of Youngstown, O.

After partaking of the special prepared lunch, the honored couple was again taken by surprise when presented with a handsome electrical gift, in behalf of those surrounding them.

Those attending from out of town were the Rev. and Mrs. James Brinkland of Buffalo, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McCreary of Lisbon, O., Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hammond, Youngstown, O.

Fall flowers were used in profusion in decorating the home throughout, and the same autumnal theme predominated in all appointments of the menu and tables.

American Home Watchmen, No. 45, will have their regular meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the McGough hall. There will be nomination of officers and a social time for members and friends.

MRS. JEAN R. HENLEY
HONORED BY CHAPTER

Shenango Chapter No. 333, Order of the Eastern Star, with Mrs. Lena L. Weber, worthy matron, and Attorney Orville Brown, worthy patron, concluded one of the loveliest events of the year, on Monday evening, when they entertained their district deputy grand matron, Mrs. Jean R. Henley, and visiting matrons and patrons of District 2-B, in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

A delicious full course dinner was enjoyed at 6:30 o'clock in the west dining room by guests numbering a hundred or more. Appointments were in keeping with the Halloween season. Mrs. Myrtle Hill and Mrs. Eva Cowles were in charge of the dinner arrangements.

Afterwards, a meeting was conducted in the east lodge room, with several hundred being present. Outstanding was the guest of honor, Mrs. Henley. This was composed of eight presiding matrons of District 2-B, and included the following: Mrs. Sara McMillen of Bethlehem Chapter No. 37, Evans City; Miss Ruth McClellan, Butler Chapter 45; Mrs. Mary Needle, Park City Chapter 60; Mrs. Burroughs Headland, Kaw Chapter No. 105; Mrs. Hazel Heckert, Mass Chapter No. 27; Mrs. Harriett Evans, Chilcara Chapter 354; Mrs. Ruth Peck, Maquedua Chapter 421, Butler; Mrs. Evelyn Goodwin, Cathedral Chapter No. 440, New Castle.

Initiation was held with worthy patron of New Castle Chapter No. 105, Henry Jackson; worthy patron of Cathedral Chapter, Frank Goodwin; patrons of District 2-B, and Charles E. Walker, worthy patron of Farrell chapter, assisting Worthy Patron Orville Brown, the latter of Shenango chapter.

Guests were present from Sharon, New Wilmington, Mercer, Grove City, Butler, Marsh, Chilcara, Parkers Landing, Evans City, West Middlesex and many other surrounding and nearby vicinities.

BRIDGE-AT-EIGHT CLUB
AT EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

Bridge-At-Eight club members, enjoyed the hospitality extended on Monday evening, in the home of Mrs. George Cather, at East Liverpool, O., formerly of this city, when she entertained at their regular bi-weekly social event.

Tables of bridge filled in the leisure hours with Mildred Layton and Louise Mitchell, carrying off the honors. Special guests who shared were Mrs. Richard Sant and Mrs. John O'Brien of East Liverpool, O.

Halloween appointments predominated in the menu served afterwards, and the same theme prevailed in her table arrangements. Mrs. Harry Purdy aided the hostess.

In two weeks, Miss Layton of North Jefferson street, this city, will entertain at her residence.

Johnson-Nord Nuptials

The home of J. A. Johnson of Bessemer was the scene of a simple but impressive wedding when his daughter, Dorothy, became the bride of Paul F. Nord, son of Mrs. August Nord, on Saturday, October 15.

The wedding ceremony, which was performed by Rev. W. J. Engle, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in the presence of the immediate families, took place at 1 o'clock in the living room, which was simply decorated with palms, chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. The couple was unattended.

The bride was lovely in a street length dress of teal blue alpaca crepe with black accessories and wore a shoulder corsage of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Lars Johnson, grandmother of the bride, wore black and white, and Mrs. August Nord, mother of the groom, wore navy blue. Both had shoulder corsages of roses and baby mums.

After the exchange of vows, a wedding dinner was served, the table centerpiece being a three-tiered wedding cake with miniature bride and groom.

The bride has been employed in the office of the Youngstown-Spartan Milk company and the groom is associated with the Bessemer Limestone and Cement company.

Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Nord departed on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Canada and Michigan, and upon their return, will make their home with the bride's father, J. A. Johnson.

Harvesters Club

Harvesters club members held their October meeting in the home of Mrs. Glenn Lewis, west of New Wilmington with Mrs. Harvey Boyle as joint hostess. Mrs. Roy Thompson, the president, presided and roll call was conducted by the secretary, Mrs. Catherine Bishop. Eighteen members responded.

A suggestion was made that the club have a Christmas party and entertainment for their families. The plans will be made for this at the next meeting.

The remaining hours were spent in playing various games. Special guests were Mrs. Pearl Hoar, Mrs. Dora Fulkman, Mrs. William Boyle and Mrs. John Neal. A lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. George Fulkman and Mrs. John Neal.

Mrs. S. M. Buchanan, New Wilmington R. D. 1, will be hostess to the club members on Wednesday, November 2.

Rita Flynn Honored

Miss Sue Flynn, 11 Homestead street, and Miss Mary Flynn, Katherine street, entertained at a miscellaneous shower in the home of the former Sunday evening in honor of their cousin, Rita Flynn, a November bride-elect.

Gifts were awarded to Mrs. Anna Murray, Mrs. Joseph Rogan and William Flynn. Later, a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, aided by their mothers, Mrs. Sue Flynn and Mrs. Mary Flynn, Katherine and Wilma Flynn.

The honoree received many beautiful and useful gifts for use in her future home.

Miss Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Flynn, Ray street, will become the bride of Raymond Buckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buckley, Whipple street, on Friday, November 11, in St. Mary's church.

McILVAINE GUILD
HEARS ABOUT CZECHS

McIlvaine Guild members of the First Presbyterian church at a gathering Monday evening in the home of Miss Janet Brennenman 418 East Garfield avenue, heard a talk of unusual and timely interest by Mrs. F. L. Smith. The subject was "Czechoslovakia," the European country which has been monopolizing the newspaper headlines for so long.

Mrs. Smith gave a most enlightening account of the Czech history, an account which showed that there is nothing new under the sun and that history has repeated itself, a number of times with these people.

Miss Ruth Brennenman conducted the devotions. She also assisted in serving along with Miss Mary Adams and Miss Kathryn Boston.

Three new members, Mrs. James R. Green, Miss Helen Leslie and Miss Melba Round, joined the organization.

AFTERNOON TEA FOR
MRS. HOWARD KENNEDY

The home of Miss Honey Raney, County Line street, was the scene of a delightful afternoon tea on Monday which honored Mrs. Howard Kennedy, nee Dorothy Druschel, a bride of September 30.

Afternoon hours were spent in playing bridge with high score prize being awarded to Thelma Claire. At four o'clock, amidst a Mexican setting, refreshments were served with Rita Elliott pouring tea.

The honoree was the recipient of an array of beautiful and useful gifts to be used in her new home.

Inchie-Pinchie Club

Members of the Inchie-Pinchie club were received Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McFarland in their home west of New Wilmington with Mrs. Charles Robinson and Marion Headings of New Castle as special guests.

Evening hours were spent in playing 500, four table being in play. Mrs. Frank Buchanan received the ladies prize for high score and George Fulkman received the high score for men.

Birthday gifts were presented to Mrs. George Fulkman, C. R. Hamilton and Russell McFarland, each having a birthday anniversary this month.

Seasonal appointments featured the delicious lunch served by the hostess, who was assisted by Marion Headings and Catherine Bishop.

The November club meeting will be with Catherine Bishop the date to be announced later.

M. S. S. Club Meets

Miss Mary Sansosti was hostess when members of the M. S. S. club met Monday evening at her residence on Harrison street.

Cards were played with the prize falling to Angeline Complose. The hostess served dainty refreshments.

The highlight of the evening was the "backwards party" held by the group.

Plans for a Halloween party were discussed to take place on October 31, at the home of Miss Dorothy Mico, Canyon street.

On October 24, Miss Norma Gemmiani will be hostess to the club when they gather at her home on Morton street.

MRS. LAWRENCE JONES
HONORED AT SHOWER

Members of the Teachers' Training class of the Wesley M. E. church assembled at the home of Mrs. Margaret Chilli on Elm street on Monday evening for their regular meeting. The event was planned in honor of Mrs. Lawrence Jones, nee Louise Birt, a bride of recent date.

Social chat and other informal pastimes were enjoyed during the first part of the evening. Later, the guests, numbering 15, were invited into the dining room to partake of a tasty repast served by the hostess.

In surprise fashion, the honoree received a lovely gift from her friends.

Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lombardo, 1102 DuShane street, entertained a host of friends in their home in honor of the birthday anniversary of their son, Joe, October 15.

Cards, dancing, and social chat were the pastimes. Mrs. Tony Pulone was a prize winner. At an appointed time, a delicious luncheon was served. Special guests included Mrs. Grace Sorio, Joe Spanish, Mr. and Mrs. James Marabito, and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Romeo, of Alliquippa.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Getting Ready For Parade And
Big Celebration

Novel Contest Is Worked Out
For Entertainment On October 27 In Ward

History will again repeat itself when the curtain rises on the gala Halloween celebration planned for the Seventh ward district on Thursday evening, October 27. Last year the Seventh ward had one of the largest and most successful celebrations held for some time and those in charge hope to duplicate the parade and if possible make it much better.

As a feature of the gala celebration a unique guessing contest is being worked out by the entertainment committee. Somewhere in the crowd on the night of the celebration will be a Mr. and Mrs. Seventh Ward and a Miss Seventh Ward.

All that will be obtainable about these three characters will be their descriptions and it will be the job of the spectators to identify them. Prizes will be given to the person or persons who locate these characters, and also to the person who locates the oldest resident at the celebration.

There will be a grand cash prize given as well as a number of other cash awards for participants of the mummies' parade. Many persons have expressed a desire to aid in the success of the celebration by making donations. Any contributions may be left at either the Mahoning Finance and Loan Company or at the office of H. G. Coates.

Play Dates Are Changed In Ward

"He Had A Past" To Be Presented In Presbyterian Church November
3 And 4

Announcement was made today that the dates for the play, "He Had A Past," had been changed to November 3 and 4. The play now being practiced will be presented in the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church auditorium by members of the Senior Christian Endeavor Society. Mrs. Virginia Cook Brown has been selected as director of the play and she is now supervising the practices of the following cast: Geraldine Weisbaker, Kenneth Evans, Beatrice Drumheller, Ruth Glenn, Jack Cheek, Virginia Drumheller, Harold Farver, Lenora Christy, Jane Bollinger, Jean Hamilton and Thomas Schnebly.

Relative Dies
At Willard, O.

Mrs. Frank T. Smith, 17 North Wayne street, received word Monday, telling of the death of her sister, Mrs. Ray T. Henry, at her home in Willard, O.

Mrs. Henry's death came after an extended illness. Mrs. Smith left Monday for Willard where she will remain until after the funeral services have been conducted.

RUTH GLENN HOSTESS
Miss Ruth Glenn will be hostess to members of the Bridgettes club tonight when they gather in the home of Miss Jean Hamilton, of Clayton street.

PATROL TO MEET
Members of the Beaver Patrol of Boy Scout Troop 4 will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Philip DeAngelis, Madison avenue.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

MRS. W. MARSHALL IS HOSTESS TO GROUP

Mrs. William J. Marshall was a pleasing hostess on Monday when she entertained members of the Reading Circle '91 at her home on East Washington street.

The countries of Norway and Sweden formed the theme for discussion and roll call was answered with the name of a person from Norway or Sweden. Mrs. W. H. Shipley assisted during the meeting.

"Government and History" was an interesting topic given by Mrs. H. C. Mitchell. "People, Education and Religion" formed the basis of a discussion by Mrs. J. P. Caldwell.

Members of the drill team of the Daughters of Union Veterans, Tent 20, held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Florence Gillespie, Emerson avenue, Monday night. Mrs. Tillie Hartman was co-hostess for the occasion.

During the hours, 500 playing was the main diversion. High score was awarded to Margaret Hammond, Alice Jackson, Anna Patterson and Martha Fox.

A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Hartman. The next meeting will be on Monday, November 21, at the home of Alice Jackson, Round street. Mrs. Margaret Hammond will be co-hostess.

Lucky Star Club
Miss Virginia Allen, rear 446 County Line street, was hostess to the Lucky Star members on Monday evening. As each member arrived, she was greeted by the hostess' mother, Mrs. Alvin Gough. The living room was decorated in a "spooky" manner with black cats, pumpkins and other Halloween suggestions, for the occasion.

One new member, Mary O'Rourke, was welcomed into the club. Pastimes were music and story-telling. A lunch was served at a reasonable hour to the 15 guests and members. A Halloween cake, flanked by red tapers, centered the table. Aides in serving were Mrs. Sam Marketello and Mrs. Annie Scarnotte.

Honored guests were Mrs. Dorothy James Allen, Flora Mae McCord and Jennie Tomon. Miss Irene Pauline, Shadyside, will be hostess on October 31.

Jackie Evans Honored
Mrs. Arnold Evans of Arlington avenue entertained twelve little guests in honor of her grandson, Jack, who celebrated his fifth birthday anniversary on Monday afternoon.

Various games were played with prizes going to Donna Ryan, Joseph Berger and Fred Martin. As a suitable time, the guests were taken into the dining room, where a tasty lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. George Stevens and Mary Ruth Turner. A birthday cake centered the table and Halloween colors predominated.

Jackie was the recipient of many nice gifts in memory of his happy occasion.

Streamliners Club Meeting
Mrs. Louis Bush entertained members of the Streamliners club at her home on Edgewood avenue on Monday evening. Plans were completed for a Halloween party to be given on Monday, October 31, at the home of Mrs. Evan Evans, of Edison avenue.

Games of 500 formed the pastime and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. Rose Sturdevant and Miss Virginia Kerber. In the serving of a tasty lunch, the hostess was assisted by Miss Thelma Kerber and Miss Elizabeth Smith.

Mrs. Merle Anderson was a special guest of the event and she was taken into the club as a new member.

Helen Book Entertains
The True Blue class of the Third United Presbyterian church, was received by Miss Helen Book in her home on Marshall avenue, Monday evening. Plans were made for a skating party and a special Thanksgiving event November 29.

A novel hat sale provided entertainment afterwards and "church tied in paper" was served at the close, which provoked much merriment. Aides were Martha Glass and Cora Mac Boston.

On November 28, the class will meet at the church.

Two Brothers From Albany Get
Severe Beating In New York
Night Club Brawl

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Two visiting night club proprietors who couldn't find their hats when they got ready to go home, were stabbed and critically wounded today in a brawl that turned the Swing Club into a shambles.

Both are in Roosevelt hospital with deep stab wounds in their abdomens and multiple lacerations of the face and body.

The victims, Raymond and Donald Fine, brothers of Albany, passed up the hat check girl when they entered the club at 1:30 a. m.

The orchestra had gone home and the floor show taken its last bow when the brothers rose to go.

A wordy argument followed when the brothers could not find their hats. Somebody swung a fist.

The fight raged in the barroom and out into the hallway. A heavy glass panel of the front door was shattered. The battle continued out into the street. One of the brothers pulled a fire alarm box.

When firemen and police radio cars arrived they found both brothers on the sidewalk, bleeding profusely, their heads so badly battered they couldn't talk.

Croton M. E. Men
Plan Activities

Men of the Croton Avenue M. E. church and the Croton community, who comprise the Men's Brotherhood of the church, gathered in the church last evening to outline activities for the fall and to elect new officers.

John R. Wilson was named chairman of the executive committee which will have charge of the programs and activities of the Brotherhood and will be aided by a committee named from each of the men's classes, who will be elected Sunday.

Rural Students Are Ahead Of City Cousins

Whereas most of the pupils who attend schools in the city are forced to walk to and from school, most of those who reside in the rural districts ride right up to the school doors every morning, and are taken home at night in modern, big school buses.

A checkup in Lawrence county reveals that with the exception of Neshannock township, which does not have a centralized school, practically every student residing any distance from a school house, rides to and from school every day.

According to a census made recently, there are something like 150,000 school buses in use throughout the United States. Some of them, it is said, are rather ancient-type vehicles, inadequately equipped but this cannot be said about the transportation facilities in Lawrence county. State laws governing the operation of school buses are very strict and the vehicles in use must meet every requirement laid down by the state.

New regulations which become effective in 1940 will draw the lines even tighter, and pupils will be riding in fine new vehicles in some of the districts next year, where the buses now in use cannot be fixed to meet the new requirements.

In the days when dad was a boy going to school, if he went to a country school, he had to plod the weary trail through all kinds of weather, and all the grades were taught in one little school for the most part.

Today, there are big centralized schools, consolidated schools, they call them; and the pupils are gathered up by the huge school buses each morning, and taken home at night. The pupils attend different classes according to their grades, just the same as in the city schools, and have just as many opportunities as the city children do.

Modern transportation has enabled one township in the county, which is not so thickly populated, to do away with schoolhouses entirely. That is Washington township, whose pupils attend school in Scott township and Volant.

Of course, the pupils residing in the various boroughs in the county, have to walk to school the same as the city youngsters, but then the distance is not so great in these cases for the most part.

Woman To Fight Murder Charges

Mrs. Patricia Dull, Refuses To Enter Plea On First Degree Charge

(International News Service.) BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Oct. 18.—In an uneven anti-climax to the pistol murder of Attorney William Holbrook outside police headquarters earlier in the day, Mrs. Patricia Dull, Holbrook's common-law wife, Monday refused to enter a plea at her arraignment on first degree murder charges.

Standing calm and unemotional in a crowded municipal court room, Mrs. Dull, who said she and the former Berrie county assistant prosecuting attorney "married ourselves" in an automobile outside a church, listened to her attorney demand examination and heard Judge Frank L. Hammond remand her to jail without bond. Examination was set for October 27.

Holbrook was killed at one A.M. as he left police headquarters after asking protection from Mrs. Dull, whom he said threatened him.

Police heard the shots, rushed outside and found Mrs. Dull beating Holbrook's body with her hat. They said she held a four-barreled .22 Derringer in her hand.

Names Of City Streets Remind Of Many Events

Because a New Castle street is named Mulberry street it does not necessarily follow that mulberry bushes grow along the thoroughfare and neither do apples grow in Apple way. There is also a Beach street here and a Big Run, adopted no doubt from the name of the stream that courses through a section of the South Side. There is also a Bridge street which extends west from South Beaver street and a Plum alley.

A street seldom heard of is Crow street, east of South Cascade, and another not mentioned much is Motor street in the Third ward section. One does not need to go to Europe to find a Carlsbad place because it may be found at the end of Hawthorne street. There is a Cascade street which runs from East Washington street to Butler avenue thence to Croton avenue and a Cascade boulevard from Hamilton street to Cascade park. There is a Nut and also a Bolt street.

Another street with an edible name is Cherry while Cliff street possibly got its name because it overlooks the railroad tracks and Shenango river. There is an avenue here named after the naval hero of the Spanish-American war, Dewey, while there also is a Harrison street, Wilson avenue, Harding street, Garfield avenue, Madison avenue, Grant street, Roosevelt street, McKinley avenues, Adams street, Monroe avenue and Jefferson street.

For those who like an inventive name, Edison avenue is on the North Hill. For those who like to remember authors, there is Emerson which runs north of Park avenue. Fern street's name may have been taken from the plant while the inventor of the first submarine, Fulton, has a street by that name here. There is also a Good avenue here, likewise a Glass street.

The French hero who fought with the Americans against the British is also honored by LaFayette and there also is a thoroughfare named after the outstanding general of the Confederate army during the Civil war, likewise one by the same name as one of the North's outstanding generals, McClelland.

There is also a Rabbit alley. Several streets got their names from Indians, such as Neshannock avenue and Shenango street, and one of the Indian-fighter, Wayne. There also is a Moody avenue and a Sankey street which recalls the famous gospel team and Milton, the poet.

New Appointments For Girl Scouts

Miss Alice Mulkey Assigned To Region Three—To Visit City November 1-2

Miss Alice Mulkey, a member of the national field staff, who worked in region three during 1936-1937, has again been temporarily assigned to this region and will be visiting in New Castle November 1 and 2. During this time she will attend meetings of the leaders association and of the New Castle Girl Scouts Council and various committees.

Mrs. Henry Robb, who is itinerant local director at Sharon, conducted a training course last year which several local leaders were privileged to attend, is now associated with Miss Margaret E. Twoby, regional director of our region. This region included Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

Mrs. Newell, executive secretary of the Girl Scouts national field division, has also announced these other appointments: Miss Rosabel Burr, as health and safety adviser attached in the program division of the national staff; Miss Margaret E. Adams, director of Girl Scouting in St. Louis, Mo.; Miss Nancy G. Daley, director in the Chicago headquarters of the Great Lakes region, and Miss Mary Esther Brooks, director in the Dixie region.

Driver Is Held In Fatal Accident

SEARON, Pa., Oct. 18.—Following an inquest here, a coroner's jury recommended that Michael Hallap, 32, of Hubbard, O., be held for legal action in the death of Mrs. Robert C. Preston, 23, of West Middlesex. Fatally injured a week ago, when a car, driven by her husband, was struck at Searon by a machine operated by Hallap.

Following the inquest, the case was turned over to District Attorney Edwin R. Moon, who said he would give it a day's consideration before announcing his decision.

Chesterfields are milder and better-tasting and here's the big reason...

It takes good things to make a good product. In Chesterfield we use the best ingredients a cigarette can have... mild ripe tobaccos and pure cigarette paper.

HERMIT PREDICTS PEACE
World peace is on the way, but it will take an earthquake to bring it. This is the prediction of Moses Guiborri, a Jewish hermit, who says he had visions in a cave in the

Mount of Olives. In a bulky book written in Hebrew and English Guiborri advances the idea that the Germans are the descendants of the Assyrians, who are the oppressors of the Jews, hence the anti-Jewish feeling in Germany. The prophet forecasts that Germany will attack the Jews in Palestine, but a book is arousing interest in Palestine. New methods for reaching the nation's hitherto untapped oil resources are being tested in Japan.

Love Piracy Suit Asking $150,000 Is Filed Against Ruth Etting

Adds New Mystery To Shooting Case

Former Wife Of Actress' Secret Husband Makes Charges In Suit

SHOOTING VICTIM IN SERIOUS SHAPE

(International News Service) HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18.—A love piracy suit asking $150,000 damages from Ruth Etting, radio songbird, today added further complications to the shooting of her present husband, Myrl S. Alderman, by her divorced mate, Martin (Moe) Snyder, New York gambler.

The suit was filed in superior court last night by Mrs. Alma Alderman, former mate of Miss Etting's wounded husband, still in a critical condition from a gunshot through his abdomen.

Mrs. Alderman accused the famed singer of luring him away from her and their infant daughter.

Snyder allegedly shot Alderman at Miss Etting's Hill-Top home in Hollywood Saturday night, and as a result he faces charges of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder and kidnapping.

Adds New Mystery

The suit filed by Mrs. Alderman added new mystery to the sensational shooting fray. In that Mrs. Alderman questioned the legality and authenticity of Alderman's marriage to Miss Etting in Tia Juana, Mexico, where the couple claimed they had been secretly wed.

Married on January 9, 1934, Mrs. Alderman's suit alleged, the couple lived in harmony together and planned the coming of their first-born—until Miss Etting entered the picture.

In 1936, Mrs. Alderman charged, Miss Etting "launched her cam-paing of coaxing and contrivance to win Alderman's love," and on October 17, 1937, just a week before the Aldermans' baby, Norma, was born, brought her conquest to a climax.

On that date, Mrs. Alderman alleged in her suit, Miss Etting succeeded in influencing Alderman to leave his wife, which he did on December 3, 1937, when the baby was less than two months old.

Showered Gifts

During the months Miss Etting wooed Alderman, Mrs. Alderman charged, she showered him with expensive gifts, including clothing and jewelry, sent him endearing telegrams and notes and constantly telephoned him from Chicago and New York.

"But for such acts," the complaint charged, "the couple still would be happily living together."

Mrs. Alderman referred to the Tia Juana wedding of Miss Etting and Alderman last July 15 as a "pretended marriage ceremony," declaring that Alderman is still her husband in the eyes of the law.

Alderman was granted a divorce from his wife on a cross-complaint on December 2, 1937, and under California law, the final decree cannot be granted until a full year has elapsed.

Meanwhile, Snyder, better known as "Colonel Gimp," was at liberty on $10,000 bail and appeared willing to talk about the affair.

"Before this thing is over," he said, "I may blow the whole case wide open."

But when asked for an explanation, he was silent, and then added: "Ruth is not telling the truth about what happened Saturday night. I didn't force Alderman to take me there. I had been invited to dinner with the family."

Y. W. C. A. Classes About To Commence

Sewing And Shorthand Wednesday; Gym Thursday; Music Friday

Classes in sewing, shorthand review, gym and mandolin-guitar will be started at the Y. W. C. A. this week, and now is the time to join.

On Wednesday, October 19, at 2 p. m., Mrs. James Rhodes will meet with any women or girls who would like to learn to sew or would like to sew better than they do at present.

The class will meet in the third floor club room. Each person will bring her own dress material and sewing equipment. One lady has requested that she be shown how to put in pockets. Other requests are solicited but there will not be a class for remodeling old clothes this time. There is no charge for tuition.

Miss Genevieve Riddle of the Senior High school faculty will start a shorthand review class Wednesday, October 19, at 7:30. Any girl who has studied the Gregg System is eligible to join for the review and practice. There is a small tuition for all except girls who are out of work.

A gym class will be started on Thursday instead of Wednesday evening, from 7:30 to 8:30, for girls who would like to keep fit in health and figure. Miss Margaret Griffith, a member of the Ben Franklin faculty and Camp East Brook counselor, will teach the group. The fee includes tuition and a health examination which is the basis of every Y. W. C. A. health project. Two more registrations are needed before this class can start.

Mrs. S. J. Callahan will start her mandolin-guitar club again this year. It will hold on the first and third Fridays, of the month from 7:30 to 9 p. m., beginning this Friday, October 21. There is no fee for those who have a reading knowledge of music on the mandolin or guitar. Beginners will be given private lessons at another hour for a nominal fee.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

The Dionne Quintuplets are what they are today—five healthy, happy, normal children—for one reason and one reason only: The unfailing care taken of them, of their diet, of their training, right down to the minutest detail.

New mothers don't get alarmed about this statement. True, the Quints have been brought up in a nursery with nurses in constant attendance. But very little has been done for them that you cannot do for your child in your own home. Yes, your child can have all the advantages the Quints had. I sincerely hope that it will be my privilege to tell you from day to day, just how this can be done.

Common sense has been the keynote in bringing up the Quints. That is why I tell you mothers that you can do as much for the members of your family. Discipline, simplicity and a large measure of common sense are the main requisites for raising healthy, happy children.

When I say "discipline," please don't think I mean the old-fashioned, "rod-of-iron" kind. When mistakes are made, correct them of course, but be careful not to do it if you are in a temper. Self-discipline is one thing we have tried to practice in the nursery. One thing we know: children cannot learn discipline themselves until they have learned the rudiments of it from the adults they meet every day.

The old rule, "know thyself," doesn't apply to anything more than to child training. You fathers and mothers remember that, and the next time young Bill won't eat his spinach, or stays out later than he should, don't fly into a temper and scold him.

In the first place it probably won't do any good. He'll probably retaliate by just being a little more covert in his wrong-doing next time. You will tumble in his estimation, and it may be a long, long time before you regain the ground you lost.

I mentioned common sense as being of paramount importance in raising the child. I mean just that. It seems indefinable, but every mother agrees down in her heart, knows what I mean. All that is necessary is to apply it.

I referred to diet in connection with the raising of children. It is strange but I have found from time to time that people have the idea that the Quints eat some wonderful dish that keeps them alive. I have read mothers say, "But, Doctor, I couldn't afford to feed my child what the Quints get."

This is rather amusing for I doubt very much if the Quints' diet isn't a great deal simpler, much freer from fat and frill, than 90 percent of the youngsters in the whole country. Our great care has been to see that machinery, clay products, and sporting goods, in return for agreements designed to increase agricultural trade with the United Kingdom.

Included in the agricultural group of proposals, officials said, is a request that Great Britain repel a six cents per bushel preferential tariff arrangement on wheat grown by countries in the British empire.

The proposal, officials said, is designed to permit wheat from the United States to compete without restriction with the product of other countries selling Great Britain, a major world importer of wheat.

Trade Pact With Great Britain Is Nearly Completed

Details Of Pact Are Still Cloaked In Secrecy—Some Hints Given

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The nearly-completed reciprocal trade pact between the United States and Great Britain will call for many concessions designed to benefit American agriculture.

Although details of the proposed pact are cloaked in secrecy, federal officials disclosed today that the United States will ask for concessions in such important agricultural items as wheat, and other grains, meats and meat products, and other foodstuffs.

As the officials predicted the proposed agreement will reach its final form in a few weeks, they revealed also that in return for concessions to American agriculture, the United States proposes to make concessions to British wheat, and Canadian lumber, wool pulp, meats, and certain agricultural products.

Also, the officials said, there may be some concessions on industrial

President Will Urge Election Of Governor Lehman

To Go On Air To Give New Yorkers His Reasons For Urging Lehman's Re-election

By GEORGE DUBNO

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Three weeks in advance of the off-year elections, President Roosevelt was back at his Hudson river farm today mapping out final plans for an aggressive participation in the New York state campaign.

Vocally and pictorially, the president intended to exercise his prerogative as a voting resident of New York to push the Democratic ticket headed by Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, Senator Robert Wagner and Rep. James Mead.

Lehman, who consented to run for a fourth term as governor only at the earnest behest of the Democratic organization, was to visit Hyde Park for a conference on general strategy.

The president intends to go much further on the night of November 4, when he will go on the air from his mother's estate to give New York voters his reasons why Lehman should be re-elected and Wagner and Mead sent to the senate.

This radio talk will be directed at New Yorkers, but the executive plans to make his remarks of such

Freshmen Co-eds Are Set Apart For First Time

(International News Service) BOSTON, Mass.—For the first time in the history of the college, Boston University freshmen girls were required to wear a distinguishing arm band of scarlet and white—the university colors.

The co-eds, who hitherto have been exempt from the usual freshman hazing were none too pleased with the bright addition to their wardrobe.

The masculine majority of the first year class seemed to take the wearing of their additional scarlet and white ties, and the rest of the embarrassing freshman rules as a matter of course. Freshmen must wear the blazing ties until Nov. 30, according to the rules.

They are also required to refrain from speaking to any co-ed while in or around the college.

After being wedded in Green Lane, England, Dr. Albert B. Coker waited for an hour in the church to give his daughter away in marriage.

Women of Tunisia spent nearly $100,000 for foreign perfumes and toilet articles in the last year.

Constipated? Then Ask Yourself This Question!

If constipation has you bogged down so you feel tired, sunk, all played out—it's time you asked yourself a question.

What have you had to eat lately? Just meat, bread, eggs, potatoes? It's no surprise you're constipated! The chances are you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is what you lack, your ticket is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains both "bulk" and a "great intestinal tonic, vitamin B." And it's not a drug, not a medicine!

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water and take a very easy case on life! All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Lutheran Men Plan To Attend District Rally

Annual Father And Sons Banquet To Be Held On Thursday, October 27

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—At a meeting of the Brotherhood of the Trinity Lutheran church held last evening in the church, arrangements were completed for attending a rally of the Beaver Valley Brotherhood to be held in the form of a banquet on Friday evening at the New Brighton church.

Arrangements were also formulated for the annual fathers and sons banquet to be held at the church on Thursday evening, October 27. Rev. Siderling of Zellenople has been selected as the guest speaker. Samuel Weisz, Herman Fleischer, Arthur Dambach and Lee Whitmore comprise the general committee. It was also decided to hold a fish fry at the church sometime in November for members and friends.

"The Christian Man's Attitude Toward the Inner Mission Work of Our Church" was the theme for discussion presented by Lawrence Flinner. The opening devotional service was conducted by D. G. Flinner. Fifteen members attended.

Another regular meeting will be held on Monday morning, November 21, at the church.

Subjects Given For Park Gate Church Meetings

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Rev. Arthur Wannemacher, of Milwaukee, Wis., began a week of special evangelistic services on Monday evening at the Park Gate Baptist church with a good attendance of members and friends hearing a stirring message on the subject, "The Power of the Gospel."

The following subjects have been announced: Tuesday, "Marks of a True Christian"; Wednesday, "What Is Christ To You?"; and Thursday, "Under Sentence of Death." The services, to be held each night except Saturday, begin at 7:45 p. m. On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Wannemacher will hold a "Happy Hour" meeting for children shortly after four o'clock. These afternoon services will continue throughout the week.

To Give Driver's Exam On Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—On Thursday the state motor police will give examinations for persons desiring to operate a motor vehicle in the state. In Ewing Park, this city, examinations are given continuously from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Examinations will not be given again in this city until Thursday, November 10.

KNOX SOCIETY

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—On Thursday afternoon members of the Women's Missionary society of the Knox Presbyterian church will be entertained for their October meeting at the home of Mrs. Abram DeWies in Knox, "Alaska" and "India" will be the subjects for discussion.

Little Bits Of This And That About Ellwood

Local people returning from Buffalo, N. Y., say they noted a sign on a main thoroughfare reading, "A strange man is Andrew Buz, when the signs says stop, he always does."

Now that Midland has topped New Brighton's 1938 grid machine, Ellwood City is the lone undefeated and untied school in the valley. New Brighton's reign as Beaver county champions ended Saturday when Midland laced them 14 to 0. Midland previously bowed to Aliquippa. Ellwood is slated to meet the Crusaders Saturday afternoon at Midland for what is expected to be their toughest game of the season.

Like a sprinter in a final burst of speed, nature at this time of year adds a brilliant dash of color to her landscape before she sinks into her roots for the winter. As though she hadn't been bountiful enough during the summer, she has taken another generous step by turning the silver maple yellow and the sumac red. It is an added attraction to a show already glorious, as the trees have been touched by the end of the rainbow. The beautiful sunshine of the past few days has added much to the brilliance of the setting. Nature is professional, having first provided the color show, and then the proper light with which to see it.

Mrs. George Blank Is Class Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Members of the Queen Esther class of the Trinity Lutheran church who gathered last evening at the home of Mrs. George Blank on Wayne avenue for their October meeting, were graciously welcomed. Seventeen members participated in the evening's activities.

Mrs. George Carmon led the devotional period and Mrs. Alvie Klienendick had charge of the business period with class activities being discussed. A pleasant social hour followed with the hostess being aided in serving a dainty lunch by Mrs. Herbert Miller and Mrs. Kenneth Blank.

For the next meeting, Mrs. A. C. Hollerman will be hostess at her home in Ellport on Monday evening, November 21. Mrs. F. H. Dabben will be the devotional leader.

Mrs. Clair Lloyd Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Twenty-five members and one guest, Mrs. Alice Morgan of the Past Noble Grands of the L. R. L. were pleasantly entertained last evening by Mrs. Clair Lloyd at her home in Knox for the October meeting.

Bingo and 500 provided the evening's diversions with the awards going to Mrs. Charles Cunningham and Mrs. Harry McKissick for the former and to Mrs. George Nickler and Mrs. Harry Shirey for cards. Mrs. Morgan was presented with an attractive guest favor.

Mrs. Charles Perrine and Mrs. Joseph Anderson were co-hostesses with Mrs. Lloyd and they served a most delicious lunch, featuring autumn appointments.

Another meeting will be held on Monday evening, November 21, with the place to be announced.

Shower Honors Ellport Couple

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. William Fere were guests of honor at an enjoyable shower held on Saturday evening by relatives and friends at their home in Ellport.

The affair was largely attended, and the hours were passed in a merry, informal manner with a variety of games occupying the attention of the group until an appropriate hour when a tempting lunch was served by a number of the ladies.

The honored ones were presented with an array of attractive and useful gifts.

Octette Club At Kampermans

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Carl Kamperman welcomed members of the Octette club in her home on Sixth street, Monday evening for the bi-weekly meeting.

Bridge at two tables provided the evening's diversion with Mrs. Jay Buquo, who will entertain the members on Monday evening, October 31, at her home in the Country club drive, being the winner of high score.

Dainty refreshments featuring seasonal appointments were served by the hostess.

MEETING POSTPONED
ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Owing to illness among the members, a meeting of the St. Mark's Lutheran church of Lillyville scheduled for Wednesday has been indefinitely postponed.

Red Flares For Mummer's Parade

Parade To Form At Circle School And Will Move Down Spring To Fifth

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 18.—Red flares will light the way for the mummers parade to be held on Halloween night, Monday, October 31. Chairman Ray Dew appointed the following merchants to assist in making the parade a success in every way. Mike Edelman, Paul Reynolds, Howard Jones, N. P. Jones, Frank Sternberg, O. J. Kemp, Sol Kwall, Mr. Hutchison, P. Fleeger, Carl Martin, Leonard Silverblatt, Jack Kimpel, Bob Shearer, Ed Keller and Harry Altman.

First, second and third prizes will be offered for the best looking adult black face couple, farmer couple, comic, pirate, bride and groom, witch, foreign costume, gypsy, clown, ghost and any miscellaneous costumes.

The same three places will be awarded to the children for the best appearing ghost, fairy, witch, pirate, Gold Dust Twins, clown, comic, cowboy, indian, animal foreign costume, gypsy and any miscellaneous costumes.

Dr. James Young Is Leaving For China

James L. R. Young, M.D., who has been appointed as a medical missionary to China by the board of foreign missions, Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., has a host of friends in Lawrence and Mercer counties, and as the physician is leaving for the war-torn Orient next month, his friends have been bidding him fond adieu.

The affection in which he is held was demonstrated at a farewell party in the beautiful New Wilmington home of a relative, P. R. Braham, on Saturday evening, a party attended by 100 guests. There were people there from New Castle, Harrisville, Buffalo, N. Y., and other places, and all joined in wishing Dr. Young the greatest of success in his chosen field. Dr. Young, although located for some years in New York City, is a Mercer county native, born and reared.

Dinner opened the party in the Braham home, with Mr. J. Ralph Neale, of New Wilmington, giving the invocation. Mrs. Samuel E. McCleary, almost 55 years old, of New Castle, was the oldest guest, and Jimmie Bell, not quite a year old, of Ellwood City, was the youngest.

Dr. Young is a cousin of Mrs. J. Glenn Berry and Judge Walter Braham, of New Castle.

Polish Quintette To Present Concert

Dana Ensemble In Benjamin Franklin Junior High School October 29

Presented under the auspices of the Holy Trinity Polish National Catholic church of New Castle, the Dana Ensemble, one of the most widely known vocal quintettes of Europe, will appear in the Benjamin Franklin junior high school Saturday night, October 29.

The quintette was founded by Wladislaw Danilowski, a young Pole, whose family suffered privation under the Russian yoke. As a young man in 1920 Danilowski, known as Dan, joined the Polish army in the fight against Bolshevism, later studied in Warsaw university specializing in music and still later began the composition of songs.

The quintette has appeared in Russia, Germany, Holland, Norway, Finland, Rumania, Estonia and Italy. In all it has given over 5000 performances in theatres, 1200 concerts, 150 broadcasts and made over 400 graphophone recordings.

Adding to the quality of the concert to be presented here is the appearance of Hanna Brzezinska, a talented soprano. She is said to have a voice of unusual brilliancy.

Two Injured As Tire Blows Out

Father And Son From Struthers Suffer Injuries On Mt. Jackson Road

Robert Stricklin, 17, was injured at 11:30 a. m. today when an auto driven by his father, Willard Stricklin, 323 Cree street, Struthers, Ohio, overturned three miles outside New Castle on the Mt. Jackson highway. The accident was caused by a tire blow-out, according to the elder Stricklin's version to the State Motor police.

They were brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where Mr. Stricklin's injuries were found to be of a superficial nature. The extent of the son Robert's injuries have not been fully determined, but they are not believed to be of a serious nature. It was stated at the hospital.

Because an insurance company failed to pay them after their fires, volunteer firemen of Milnthorpe, England, struck.

Extermination Of Timber Wolves Is Strongly Opposed

Would Keep Alive Timber Wolves Seen In District Near Kane, Pa.

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 18.—Suggestions to the game commissioner that no action be taken to exterminate timber wolves discovered near Kane—two have been trapped alive to date—“being considered without any decision yet having been reached,” the commission said today.

“It has been suggested that we just let the pack alone, because it would help keep the deer herd in check by killing off the weaklings,” it was explained by Seth Gordon, executive director of the commission.

“We are checking into the entire matter, but have not reached any decision. First of all we are having both wolves shipped down here, so we can determine definitely whether or not these are timber wolves, coyotes, or what—from all we have learned so far they appear to be wolves.”

Gordon said Dr. E. H. McCleery, for years owner of a captive pack of Lobo wolves at Kane, was among local residents who had written to him urging freedom for the wild pack. Gordon observed it was “unlikely” any more of the animals would be caught, now that two members of the pack have been trapped.

Fear For Lives Of Americans In City Of Canton

United States Takes Steps To Evacuate Citizens From Threatened City

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Alarmed over the plight of 156 Americans in Canton, who are threatened by Japan's drive on the south China metropolis, the American government Monday took steps to evacuate its nationals and to protect those unable to leave the city.

The gunboat Mindanao stood by in the Pearl river with five British and one French naval vessels to move the Americans to Hong Kong as danger develops.

Fears were expressed for their safety after swiftly-moving Japanese land columns cut the railroad line leading from Canton to Hong Kong, the British crown colony.

The American consul at Canton reported that 156 Americans, of which 80 are of Chinese extraction, remain in Canton. Some 300 have left the city during the past few months, the latest exodus reportedly took place on Oct. 13 when 13 Americans departed.

Three Hundred Americans Ready To Leave Spain

Demobilized At Barcelona Awaiting Departure From Revolution Area

(International News Service) PERPIGNAN, France, Oct. 18.—Three hundred Americans—the remainder of 2000 who went to Spain to fight for the government forces—today were demobilized in Barcelona and awaited their departure from the country under supervision of a League of Nations commission.

The rest of the American members of the international brigade were either killed or too badly wounded to permit removal.

With other alien fighters, the Americans bade farewell to their Spanish companions-in-arms at parades in Barcelona yesterday.

At the same time, further contingents of Italians made ready to sail from the insurgent port of Cadiz in the wake of the 10,432 who embarked for home Saturday.

Pinchot Leaders Support James

Pledge Support For Entire Republican Ticket At Meeting In Pittsburgh

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—A group of leaders who campaigned for former Governor Gifford Pinchot in the Republican primary campaign on Monday pledged their support to Judge Arthur H. James and the entire Republican ticket for the November election.

More than 70 Pinchot leaders from western Pennsylvania met here at the call of County Chairman Frank J. Harris and unanimously approved the resolution.

The resolution declared Pinchot repudiated a public promise to support the victorious slate after the primary when he recently issued a statement attacking the principal backers of Judge James. The statement concluded:

“We believe that the principal issue in this campaign is the restoration of honest and decent government in Pennsylvania and to bring that about we shall do everything we can to insure Republican victory on November 8.”

Speakers at the meeting here included P. Stephen Stahlmecker, Pinchot's campaign manager; State Rep. E. Kent Kane of McKean county; County Commissioner John O'Neil of Washington county; County Commissioner John S. Herron of Allegheny; former State Senator George T. Weingartner of Lawrence county, and Harris.

Hunt Source Of Typhoid Fever At Uniontown

(International News Service) UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 18.—Uniontown's typhoid fever epidemic continued to spread Monday as health officials conducted an unrelenting search for a “carrier” they believed responsible.

The death toll stood at three and more than 50 were ill.

The newest theory was that the typhoid fever germs were incubated in gravy served at a church dinner after which the epidemic occurred.

The fever germ, deposited by a “carrier,” multiplied many times in the warm gravy, according to health officials. Those who attended the dinner last were the greatest sufferers for by then the germ content of the gravy had increased to a greater extent, it was explained. The milk and water supply have been eliminated as possible sources of infection.

The three dead were Lloyd Weightman, 10, of Uniontown; Mrs. Harriet Spaw, 27, of Bethelboro, and John Savage, 11, of High House. John was the last to die.

In a critical condition are Miss Mary Frances Spaw, 23, a sister-in-law of the dead woman, and Samuel Reed, of Uniontown. Both are in the Uniontown hospital.

One Acre Yields 479 Bushels Of Potatoes This Year

(Special To The News) HARRISBURG, Oct. 18.—Two hundred potato growers from Lehigh and bordering counties, witnessed the digging of fifty odd varieties of potatoes yesterday from a two acre plot at Neffs, Lehigh county.

The two acres planted to fifty unnamed varieties developed by the Pennsylvania State College in a comparative yield experiment averaged better than 350 bushels per acre and four of the best yields were 479, 481, 430 and 406 bushels per acre. On the performance, as determined in such tests, the choice of new and superior varieties of potatoes for Pennsylvania growers, distributors, and housewives, will be made.

Representatives of the State Department of Agriculture, the Pennsylvania State College, and the Pennsylvania Potato Growers' Association, were present.

The above plot was grown under the supervision of the Lehigh County Potato Growers' Association. Members of this association were in charge of the harvesting and contributed much toward making the test a real success.

Loses Appeal In Baby Fraud Case

Writ Of Review Denied In “Gift Of God” Baby Scheme Fraud

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Wilfred Jones, convicted and sentenced to ten years imprisonment for complicity in the Muench “gift of God” baby fraud case in St. Louis, today lost an appeal to the supreme court for a writ of review.

Jones was one of five indicted on charges of a scheme to defraud Dr. M. Pitzman, St. Louis physician, by luring him with an illicit love affair with Nellie Muench. She pretended that he was the father of a baby, and made demands upon him for money, the court records showed.

The group was charged with obtaining a baby from Anna Ware on the promise that it would be adopted by wealthy parents and using it in the scheme.

New Castle Hi Hopes To Take Fifth Straight

Will Go To Warren Friday Night With Determination To Upset Presidents

EXPECT CROWD TO ACCOMPANY TEAM

New Castle High's big "Red Hurricane" football team will go to Warren, O., on Friday night determined to try and win its fifth straight victory; at the expense of the Presidents of Harding High school. Warren has lost but two games this year—to Massillon 21 to 0, and to Farrell last week 7 to 6. Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh uncovered a couple of more dependable starters in Toscano and DeMarco Friday night and will give these boys a lot of attention this week. The cripples are not mending very fast, the list contains Sowsinski, Phillips, Ciarella and Misko. None of these boys may see action in the Warren battle.

Looked Very Good
The New Castle High team looked very good in the trouncing handed to the highly rated Har-Brack High team last Friday. Those triple laterals were real home runs and will be used again no doubt when the time is ripe. New Castle looked better on their passes too, and may have a few in the Warren game.

No doubt the eleven boys who began the Har-Brack game will be the starting team this Friday night, barring injuries, of course. Any eleven boys who clicked like they did, should get another chance at least.

With the big powerful Massillon High team slated to appear here the following Friday night, the locals do not have such a rosy outlook. Washington, Har-Brack, Warren and Massillon in a row is something to buck up against.

Special Train Planned
There is no doubt but that a crowd of perhaps 500 or 600 fans and students will avail themselves of the low rate of 65 cents being asked by the P. & L. E. for the special train to Warren on Friday night, and of course many will drive, but they may run into a lot of fog this time of year.

Tickets for the special are on sale at the P. & L. E. ticket office on the Diamond, at the Sporting Goods Store and the Senior High school. The team is going by train to Warren. Tickets for the Warren game went on sale this morning.

Gersons Team To Meet Wednesday

The Gerson basketball team will have an important meeting at the Gerson store at 6:45 o'clock on Wednesday evening. It was announced by Coach Michael Kullien. All of the players on the 1937-38 team are asked to report promptly.

The Gersons plan for a better team than they had last year when they won the championship in the city-county tourney at the Washington High School floor. Several new faces will be seen with the Jewellers this year.

Joey Archibald Is New Champion

Pawtucket, R. I., Featherweight Will Wear Crown Given Up By Armstrong

strong

OUT-TUMBLES HIS OPPONENT MONDAY

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—By special permission of the New York State Athletic Commission, until further notice a rough, tough rugged young man by the name of Joey Archibald, of Pawtucket, R. I., is the world featherweight boxing champion as successor to Henry Armstrong, who played no part in the proceedings.

Archibald accomplished what is known as ascending to the throne last night by out-fumbling, out-stumbling and out-tumbling one Mike Bellosse, of New York.

Main significance of the bout, arranged to find some one to carry on where Armstrong left off when he relinquished the title to devote all his time to working at his job of kinging the lightweight and welter divisions, seems today to rest in the fact that few fights for a championship have been rougher or, in some respects, more hilarious.

Unanimous Decision
Archibald clearly won the decision which met with approval of the crowd of 8,000, and he probably clinched for himself the world tumbling championship for all anybody knows. He and Bellosse went over or through the ropes more than a dozen times during the 15 rounds and occasionally came close to taking Referee Arthur Donovan with them in one of the wildest bouts waged around here in a long, long time.

They did a little butting, among other things, and at the finish Archibald, who is known as the fighting school-boy, bore several cuts and bruises.

K. Pulaskis To Meet Tonight For Floor Discussion

Alexander "Lefty" Maslyk, general chairman of all sport committees at the K. Pulaski hall on Atlantic avenue, has called a special meeting for tonight at 7:30 o'clock to discuss the coming basketball season and also to talk over plans for a banquet for the baseball team.

All members of the various sport committees are asked to be in attendance as many important matters will be brought up for settlement. The K. Pulaski baseball team enjoyed a fine season and are planning a better team for the 1939 season. They made life tough for a good many of the teams in the city league.

Mr. Maslyk has several ideas that he will discuss with the athletes tonight.

Pirates Sign Up Traynor For Season Of 1939

"Did Good Job," Says President William Benswanger, Got Bad Breaks

BEST LIKED OF ALL MANAGERS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—Retention of Harold Joseph ("Pie") Traynor as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates for his fifth consecutive year was announced today by William E. Benswanger, president of the club.

The new contract, as in the past is for one year.

The announcement came as no surprise, however, for Benswanger told Traynor at the beginning of the last and fatal Chicago Cubs series this year when the Bucs were unseated as leaders in the National League race that "win or lose" the manager's job was his for the coming season.

Did Good Job
Upon receipt of the contract, Benswanger told newspapermen:

"We feel and other baseball men of the country also feel that Manager Traynor did a good job. In 1938, it was only an unfortunate break that prevented him from winning the pennant."

(Editor's Note: After the Pirates downfall at the end of the season Traynor was showered with messages of condolences from other baseball managers, informing him that it wasn't his fault, but rather the Cubs had a "hot" ball team. Most notable among the messages was one from Bill Terry, manager of the New York Giants, who reiterated an early statement in which he said that "if the Pirates lose now, they all ought to quit.")

During the four seasons Traynor has piloted the Pirates' destinies, the team has never once finished out of the first division.

In 1935 and 1936 the Pirates ended up in fourth place. In 1937 they clinched a notch and finished the season in third place and last year, after having the pennant literally in their back pocket, they faded and wound up in the runner-up position.

Significantly, however, it is noted that since 1936, the Pirates showed an improvement each year by boosting their final stand one notch.

Will Make Trades
Traynor, probably the best-liked manager in the major leagues, started his managerial career with the local club back on June 10, 1934, when he succeeded George Gibson, former big-league catcher, who resigned.

Since that time, Pie has pioneered the Bucs to 342 victories against 269 losses for a percentage of .560.

It is the belief of many baseball experts here that the early signing of Traynor apparently is the "go ahead" signal for trading of which the Pirates promises much.

Becomes Driver
With his strategy bold in order, Benswanger is reported ready to swing the axe that will cut loose the "dead wood" that hindered rather than aided the team during last season.

Traynor, who in the past has been noted for his easiness with the players, is believed to have become a "driver" and is reported in full accord with the new club policy.

The 1939 season is a good deal in the distance, but the winter should prove quite interesting to baseball followers, especially Pirate rooters.

Hockenberry High In Rifle Shoot

Hockenberry with a 194 string led the New Castle Rifle Club members last night in a practice shoot at the Cathedral range. Second high string was shot by Jesse Moore a 193.

Friday night there will be a league shoot here at the Cathedral range that brings East Palestine as the opponents.

The result of last night—Hockenberry 194, Jesse Moore 193, Watson 188, Hal 160, Eckles 191, Kibbrecht 180, Waddington 165, Patterson 180, Brunner 183, Ruby Moore 180, Glitch 165, McKee 185, Van Horn 184, Thomas 191, Cramer 163, Stark 169.

BOOSTERS PRACTICE Wednesday Evening

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Fine sportsmanship . . . throughout W. P. I. A. L. circles, New Castle high school is being lauded for its stance in the indignity of Albert Piccutta, left end, which likely cost the "Red Hurricane" the coveted Class AA title. Rather than hide the mistake, school officials stepped right up and presented the case to the proper authorities. Principal F. L. Orth forfeited New Castle's opening game to Butler. In the record books, the game will be listed as a Butler victory, score, 1-0.

In permitting Piccutta to participate in the opening game, New Castle did not try to pull the wool over anybody's eyes. As it stands, the local team can't be considered for the championship. The incident dates back to a P. I. A. A. rule stating that an athlete must be in school 60 days of the previous semester in order to be eligible for football or basketball. Piccutta was out of school for a while last semester due to illness. Believing that illness did not count against the athlete, local officials permitted him to play. Butler displayed true sportsmanship in not protesting. Sportsmanship is one of the main assets in the make-up of any institution. Butler and New Castle came through in flying colors.

Sport jottings . . . Ernie Lombardi, Cinny catcher, who copped the National league batting toga, played the last few weeks of the grind despite sprained wrists which were slightly wrapped. He finished with a .342 mark. Colonel Jacob Ruppert, who became sole owner of the Yanks in 1922, says that it would be dishonest to deliberately weaken his team. In Lancaster, Friday, a fight announcer called the result of a bout a draw and then discovered that he had erred. It was the Duce-Soose scrap which saw the handsome Farrell lose for the first time since turning "pro".

Odds and ends . . . Mississippi State has five married men on its football squad. Casey Stengel, pilot of the Boston Boss, did not impose a single fine on any member of his team during the past season. Dizzy Dean, who usually spends his winters in Florida, will move to the sunny California for the winter days. Mickey Cochrane, ranked as one of the scrappiest players in baseball, took part in 1482 battles and yet was never banished by a ump.

Did you know? . . . New Castle and Har-Brack executed the same number of scrimmage plays Friday night 41. Coaches each week grade Detroit high school officials. The "cream" assignments go to those with the highest marks. The world series championship has been decided by four games five times. Al Schacht, who has cleaned up plenty with his comedy acts during big league games, is branching out in football this fall.

Those flock of upsets Saturday afternoon took a big cut at our batting average. In 39 games, we were right 19 times. To date, our score is 102 correct out of 131 games, not including 9 tie tussles. Despite all things, we're still way past the 700 mark.

Eshmont Rated As Great Back

Jim Crowley Says "Leonard Eshmont, Fordham Sophomore, Will Be All-American"

By LEWIS BURTON
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—"Leonard Eshmont is the best running back I've ever coached," said Jim Crowley, Fordham's coach and member of Notre Dame's famous "Four Horsemen."

"That includes Bob Monnett and Abe Elowitz at Michigan State. He is better than Marshall Goldberg as a runner, and he has the possibilities of developing into the greatest running back I've ever seen."

"He's exceptional. He hasn't got Goldberg's physique. He's not as big. He weighs only 165 pounds. But he can cut left or right without loss of speed and he doesn't need added weight."

Praised By Meehan
Crowley's salute topped off the voluminous praise by sports writers who have seen him in action. Another to join in is Chick Meehan, whose 21 years of coaching slightly enhances the significance of his opinion. Meehan saw Eshmont against Purdue on Saturday and said:

"He is the greatest ball-carrier New York has had since Ken Strong. You only need one look at him to be convinced. There can't be any argument about it."

Eshmont in three games has gained more yardage running than Fordham's leading halfback did in all of 1937. The Atlas, Pa., sophomore has carried the ball 52 times for a net of 362 yards and an average gain of 7.33.

Eshmont is built for his role. He stands 5 feet 10 and is well built. He is 21 years old and his strength is manly. There is nothing boyish about his blocking, tackling or, when it comes down to it, straight-ahead power.

Church Basketball Teams Will Gather On Thursday Night

Henry McNicholas Calls First Meeting For Managers Of Basketball Teams

Henry McNicholas, assistant general secretary of the "Y" today issued the first call for the managers and representatives of all of the New Castle church basketball league to meet at the "Y" on Thursday night at 7:15 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the 1939 organization.

The league will be supervised and regulated by the following members of the Ministerial Association—Dr. G. S. Bennett, Rev. W. H. MacLean, Rev. Chester Yeates and Rev. Milton Shearer. The "Y" officials will also act as a supervising committee of the league. The league is shaping up in a very successful manner.

The following churches are asked to have their managers at the meeting: First Christian, Epworth M. E. (the defending champs), First Presbyterian, Trinity Episcopal, Second U. P., Christ Lutheran, Central Presbyterians, Calvary Presbyterians, Wesley M. E., and others.

Sharp Defeats Oil City Boxer

Robinson Trails West Virginia Featherweight Champ Throughout

RUBIN WINS IN SECOND ROUND

Smokey Robinson, colored dynamo of Oil City today stands defeated. Billy Sharp, the featherweight champion of West Virginia having turned the trick in three sensational rounds last night in the Arena. Sharp knew too much for the colored lad and when they had ended their fist scrap the fans stood up and cheered, not because the colored lad had been beaten for the first time but because it was a spectacular battle.

Regardless of what Robinson tried to do the West Virginian did something better. He was more accurate in his delivery and came out of the slugfests with a shade the best of the exchanges. However, neither was near a knockout at any time. The closest the fighters got to the danger point was when Sharp pounded Smokey while he was against the ropes. Although Robinson was beaten, it does not follow that he is through; far be it from him. He put up a fight that anyone could be proud of.

The Joe Popeski-Mickie Rubin fight was a fight; in fact, the best of the night. It was spectacular, so much in fact that the fans were on their toes throughout the encounter and they did not set down until Rubin was given the fight on a technical knockout. As has been said often in this column Rubin's gameness brought him through. He was given the Foreman watch for winning the best fight of the night and to Pop Em Over Joe who popped but couldn't pop hard enough, he got the pocketbook set.

Jaw Of Granite
In the first round Popeski slugged Rubin in a corner. It looked bad for Rubin because Joe's straight punches, fortified with speed, landed on Mickie's "button." However, Rubin's chin, probably of granite, withstood the barrage. Soon Rubin landed with a right to the jaw that was dynamite unleashed and down went Popeski. Tom McMahon, the referee, tolled off the seconds until nine had expired and the Meadowville boy arose.

Popeski Down Again
He slugged Rubin and was having the best of the slugfest until Rubin put a left to the jaw, followed with another then sent a left hook to the stomach and down went Meadowville again. Tom McMahon again counted. He got to nine when Pop Em Over Joe arose as the bell sounded, ending the bout.

In the second they did not square off or feel each other out. Instead, they went into a slug-fest. Rubin stepped back then, skipped in with a left to the body and rocked Popeski with a right across to the jaw. They slugged again and when they came out Popeski put a terrific right to Rubin's jaw.

Mickie's legs buckled. He was not in his corner counting. His face was gory from the slugfest which had found punches landing on his nose. He sent Rubin to the ropes but he broke away and slugged with Popeski. Rubin had the best of the exchange. He put a left to the body then followed with a left to the chin which staggered Popeski.

Rubin Wins Fight
He then sent another left to the body and Popeski crouched up. He gave up the fight because the punches landed in the solar plexus tying up his nerve center. Tom McMahon gave the fight to Rubin and the house roared with cheers.

The results of other bouts:
Elmer Cortez, Ellwood City, defeated Joe Cook, Youngstown; 126 pound class.

Red Mackiewicz, Titusville defeated Billy Russell, Oil City, by knockout in the second round.

Lee Farrar, New Castle, defeated Jimmy Blackburn, Cleveland, by knockout in second round; 133 pounds.

Mut, Casale, Winton, defeated Frankie Genaro, Youngstown, by knockout in second round; 150 pounds.

Claire Cramer, Oil City, defeated Bobby Anderson, Winton, three rounds; 135 pounds.

Sully Tenti, Alliquippa, defeated Johnny Conio, Meadville, three rounds, 150 pounds.

Fine Program For Sportsmen Tonight

A most interesting program has been arranged to supplement the lunch tonight at the October meeting of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association in city hall.

Heading the speaking program will be Hon. Charles B. Mayne, former mayor, Game Protector, "Jewels" Conn, and others. George Sillman and James Cypher will have charge of the lunch. The revised by-laws and constitution of the association will be presented to the membership for adoption. Matters of great interest concerning the hunting season will be announced.

At the November meeting Nick Casella and an opponent to be chosen will have a debate on the question "Natural Bait Versus Artificial Lures."

Penn State Will Meet Army Team

Scheduled To Play Army At West Point In November Next Fall

(Special To The News)
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 18.—An eight game football schedule was announced for Penn State in 1939 here today, featuring the first meeting between the Nittany Lions and Army in 39 years.

Every 1938 opponent will be encountered by the Lions with the exception of Lafayette who is replaced by Army. State will open with Bucknell at home on October 7.

Penn State and Army last met on the gridiron in 1900, playing a scoreless tie. Only one other meeting is recorded between the two schools. Penn State defeating the Cadets in 1893, 6 to 0.

A feature of the home schedule includes the first visit of the Pitt Panthers to the campus since 1937. Bucknell, Lehigh, and Maryland are other home games.

The complete schedule:
October 7, Bucknell at home; October 14, Lehigh at home; October 21, Cornell at Ithaca; October 28, Syracuse at Syracuse; November 4, Maryland at home; November 11, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; November 18, Army at West Point; November 25, Pittsburgh at home.

Zivic Decisions Tony Canzoneri

Fans At Scranton See Great Battle As Former Champion Tries Comeback

(International News Service)
SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 18.—Tony Canzoneri's comeback effort was interrupted in the first chapter today by Eddie Zivic of Pittsburgh, who scored a 10-round split decision over the former featherweight and lightweight king.

Canzoneri, weighing 144, had the Pittsburgh brawler on the verge of a knockout in the first round. Thereafter, he relied in his drive for a speedy verdict, apparently preferring to get in as much of a workout as possible without risking victory.

Zivic flashed brilliantly mid-way through the fight and hammered the former king hard in the seventh and eighth rounds.

Canzoneri then discarded his coasting technique and opened up on his 144-pound opponent in the final two rounds. Zivic appeared to finish with great effort. He won the decision, however, on Referee Al Murphy's vote after Judges Harry Levine and Joe Gaston had disagreed.

Zivic agreed to give Canzoneri a return match.

Donald Budge To Turn Pro, Makes $100,000 Request

(International News Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 18.—Butt, button, who got the $100,000, is the name of J. Donald Budge, world's tennis champion, was playing today.

The hundred-grand asking price to leave the ranks of those who play for naught but fun was revealed by the red-tatched star when he announced receipt of a $75,000 offer.

The proposal was made by Jack Harris, Chicago sports promoter, $75,000 for a one-year worldwide professional tour.

Harris, who managed the pro tours of Ellsworth Vines and Fred Perry, made the offer in a long-distance telephone conversation—which significantly followed by only a few hours the release of Baron Gottfried Von Cramm from a German prison.

Overnight Sports

(International News Service)
JOE ARCHIBALD OF PAWTUCKET, R. I., was recognized in New York City today as the featherweight champion of the world, according to the throte vacated by Henry Armstrong by a 15-round decision over Mike Bellosse in New York last night.

Tony Canzoneri's comeback was interrupted at Scranton by Eddie Zivic of Pittsburgh who weathered early and late bombardments to win a split 10-round verdict.

Henry Armstrong arrives in New York today to train for defense of his welterweight crown against Cefirine Garcia next month.

Light Heavyweight champion John Henry Lewis concludes training at Pompton Lakes, N. J., today for defense of his crown against Al Gainer at New Haven, Conn., Friday night.

Grovers Prepare For Allegheny

Annual Encounter With Allegheny Will Be Played In Meadville Saturday

GROVE CITY, Oct. 18.—A weary and battered Grove City football squad of upperclassmen went to work today to prepare for the game that makes or breaks a Crimson season—the annual encounter with Allegheny. Under an agreement that freshmen will not be used, Coach Loveless excused the yearlings he has been using with the varsity, that they may test minor injuries.

Loss of Bud James at halfback and Bud Bovard in the line will weaken the Grovers. James, however, will have a chance to rest up a battered shoulder which kept him out of much of the hard game with Geneva, Friday evening. His ball-carrying has been a feature of every game, while Bud Bovard has proven a capable replacement for Center Andy Petach.

Grooms Taylor
Coach Jim Loveless is grooming Jim Taylor, sophomore back, to start against the "Gators," pairing him with either Bob Bingham or Jack Graham. Bill Perry, a first-string halfback, is also a freshman and ineligible. At all other positions, the Grovers can put an experienced starting eleven on the field, and will hope that the team can stage an "iron-man" performance. Coach Loveless will be badly handicapped for replacements.

No heavy work is on the schedule this week, as Loveless seeks to get his veterans in the best possible shape for Saturday's game at Meadville. He is introducing a variety of plays, many of them to be used for the first time. In a "shoot the works" effort to wipe out last year's 2-0 defeat. Since it will be the last Allegheny game for six Grovers, who have played on only one Crimson team that beat Allegheny, they pointed for a great effort in their last chance.

Grid Managers Meet Tonight

Crisci Calls All Managers Of City Football League To "Y" At 8 O'clock

All managers of teams in the City Football league will meet in special session at the "Y" tonight at 8 o'clock with Frankie F. Crisci, president of the league presiding. There is considerable business of importance to be taken up by the officials of the league.

Whether or not the City Football league continues the rest of the season depends on the turnout and attitude of the managers at the meeting tonight. There has been considerable bickering to date in the league and Mr. Crisci intends to put a stop to it.

Ease Off SomeModest Rally Reduces Early
Losses in Stock Trading
TodayBy LESLIE GOULD
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The stock market eased further today, as profit-taking continued on a fairly broad front. Extreme losses, made soon after the opening, ran to 2 points, but these were reduced some by a modest rally later.

Aviation shares displayed a relatively steady tone. Utilities gave up small fractions. Pressure was heaviest on steels, coppers, chemicals, mail orders and motors.

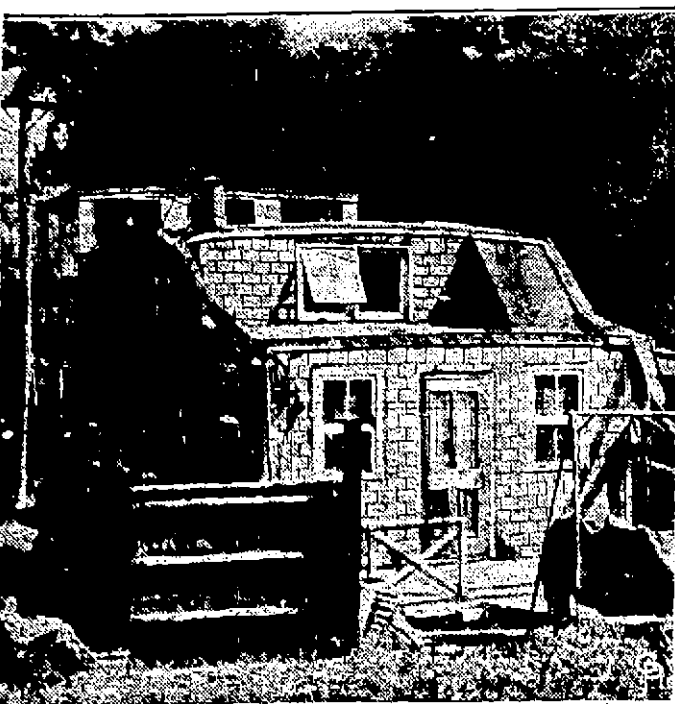

A few of the higher-priced issues suffered substantial declines. Allied Chemicals, which was up 5 points at one time yesterday despite general market weakness, lost as much today. Westinghouse Electric tumbled 3, as did Du Pont, before meeting support.

Included in the list of representative stocks to drop a point or more were American Smelting, Anaconda, Air Reduction, U. S. Steel, National Steel, American Can, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Hiram Walker and Chrysler.

Houseboat Home of Slain Girl

Here is the houseboat home on which Mary Coyle, 17, New Rochelle, N. Y., high school student, lived with her mother and her sisters, before her murder. An autopsy revealed the girl had been criminally attacked and her head battered by blows from a blunt instrument. Her body was found behind a Larchmont theatre.

Vann Threatens
He Will Tell AllMay "Complete The Story Of Which Guffey Has Told Only A Part"MAKES REPLY TO GUFFEY'S CHARGE

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—A veiled threat to "tell all" and "complete the story of which Senator Guffey has told only a part" was Robert L. Vann's answer today to United States Senator Joseph P. Guffey's charge he was bolting the Democratic party over a patronage slight.

Vann, negro publisher, recognized as a political leader among his followers, exhorted members of his race to desert the Earl-Jones slave vote for Judge Arthur H. James, Republican nominee for governor. Senator Guffey countered later with a public statement, rebuking Vann and appealing directly to the negro voters to disregard his exhortations.

"He knows I told him exactly what I was going to do," the Pittsburgher said, "and if it were not for my respect for confidences, I would say what he told me. It is because I can complete the story of which Senator Guffey has told only a part."

Vann told his followers Sunday night that the present administration should be destroyed in the November election so that Senator Guffey would be returned to the position of the state's No. 1 Democrat. He said he acted with Guffey's full knowledge.

Answering the Senator's declaration that the bolt was precipitated by a patronage slight, Vann said: "As to my wanting to name every appointee in the Democratic party, the senator knows that I have not named three people for appointments since 1932. The senator also knows that Mr. Lawrence (state Democratic chairman David L. Lawrence) adopted the policy of having ward chairmen endorse all appointments."

"I objected to this method of building up patronage through ward chairmen because it would throw my people and many members of his own race directly under racket domination. He agreed with me."

Sen. Guffey, however, previously asserted Vann's appeal was "deceitful and dishonest."

Noted Educator To Conduct Forum HerePresident Rudisill Of Thiel To Appear Saturday In Washington High

Dr. E. S. Rudisill, president of Thiel College, Greenville, is to conduct a forum in the George Washington Junior high school auditorium Wednesday evening at 8:30. His subject will be "Child Relationships in the Family, School and Community."

This is the second meeting of a similar nature sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association, the Education and Recreation Council and the Education and Works Progress Administration. Last week Dr. Garry Meyers, of Cleveland Heights, was the speaker.

Dr. Rudisill has been prominent for years in parent education work and a large audience is expected to hear his talk and participate in the question and answer period which is to follow. Parents who have problems will find an opportunity at this meeting to submit questions for discussion. Dr. Rudisill is tendering his services without cost and the meeting is open to the general public without any charge. Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of school, will preside.

News Briefs
From City Hall

Police today were holding for a hearing in police court, Walter Jenkins, Croton avenue, according to Chief of Police Ralph A. Griswell. The chief said Cruiser Car Police H. E. Richards and W. G. Smith report they saw Jenkins break the glass and a handle on a parking meter in East Washington street at 1:40 a. m. today.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath requested persons today to not permit children to haul away their tin cans unless the people knew for a certainty that the tin cans would be hauled to a dump. "I don't want to discourage youthful ambition but at the same time some of them haul the cans only a short distance then dump them on the street" the mayor stated. Recently collector of garbage and tin cans, Ed Umbright said tin cans removed by the city would be resumed November 1.

Don Wilson, 911 Marshall avenue, has the body of an auto today and police are searching for thieves. Last night his Plymouth deluxe sedan was stolen, driven to Gaston park and the tires, tires, heater and tools were stolen. The auto stolen from Eli Grigor, 1706 Hamilton street was found in South Jefferson street near the Big Run, police reported. Lynn Erwin, 20 Round street, told police his car, parked in Grove street, was rifled of groceries, tools, a robe and gasoline last night. The groceries were found in Gaston park.

Police here have been asked to search for Harry Snowden, 57, colored, who took a train to Philadelphia yesterday. He is believed headed toward Ashtabula, O.

Police were told that limestone yesterday fell from a truck in Highland avenue. Another auto came along and the fire picked up a piece of the limestone and forced it to fly to the sidewalk where it struck a pedestrian.

Police last night had a garage service car tow an auto which had been parked for two days in Randolph street near Lutton street, to a garage.

The City Rescue Mission is planning a special service tonight with special music and speaking. On Thursday evening the Third U. P. church will be in charge of the service with Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, pastor, bringing the message.

Supt. Gibson is planning another evangelistic campaign with Rev. Carl Harwood of California, evangelist and Bible teacher and musical artist, beginning November 2 to 12. The services are at 8.

THEY PLAY PROMINENT PARTS IN FCC INNER ROW

Friction in the Federal Communications Commission comes to a head with the "purge" of Harpison Gary, general counsel, by Chairman Frank McNinch over the bitter opposition of two members of the seven-man commission. McNinch disclosed plans of a broad "purge" of the federal agency which, he believes riddled with "inefficiency".

Ranged against McNinch in the purge of Gary from his $9,000-a-year post were Commissioners George H. Payne and T. A. M. Craven, as they have been frequently in the past. Voting with McNinch to replace Gary with William J. Dempsey were Commissioners Thad H. Brown, Eugene O. Sykes and Paul A. Walker.

Plan Program For Opening Dinner Of Consistory Groups

Event Will Take Place In Newly Decorated Cathedral
On October 27

For the opening Consistory Dinner Party on Thursday evening, October 27, the entertainment which will be offered by the committee in charge will be of an unusual nature, and one which should prove attractive to all. Chairman Albert B. Street, announced today.

There will be a good dinner offered at 6:30 o'clock, followed by a program of entertainment. Later in the evening, there will be a feature sound picture, with cards and dancing.

The Cathedral has been redecorated and remodeled. A new stage has been built in the dining room, and many changes will greet the members when they assemble on this occasion.

This dinner will be open to the Masonic friends of members who are not affiliated with the Consistory and a record attendance is looked for.

Further details of the program will be announced later, the committee announces.

Will Inaugurate New President At Mount Union

(Special To The News)

ALLIANCE, O., Oct. 18—Mount Union college will be the center of educational interest Thursday, October 20, when delegates from 151 colleges, universities and learned societies will gather to take part in the inauguration of Mount Union college's fifth president, Dr. Charles Burgess Ketcham, former superintendent of the Cleveland district of the Methodist church.

The inauguration exercises will take place in Memorial hall on the college campus immediately following an academic procession from Chapman Hall. W. D. Shultz, president of the board of trustees of the college, will officially induct the new president into office. H. ROAMER WANTS TO WED

Nicholas Sidoroff, a man without a country and a roamer in Europe, wants to marry a girl in England. He got into that country on a week end ticket from Ostend, Belgium, and was accused in police court in Marylebone of contravening the Aliens Order. The girl he wants to marry, the secretary of Major John G. Gillman, was in court. The matter was referred to the Home Secretary. Sidoroff is 33, and is said to be a member of a wealthy Russian family who fled during the revolution. The father disappeared and the mother remarried. In search of his father, Sidoroff went to Moscow in 1933, giving up his League of Nations passport, which was never returned. He escaped from Russia and started to roam.

PERMITS GIVEN FOR BUILDING PROJECTS

Rev. J. E. Janok, 1705 Moravia street, has been issued a city permit to remodel a brick dwelling at that address. The estimated cost of the remodeling was given as $25. Carrion Di Paolo, 221 East Long avenue, has been given a city sanction to build a fence and John Holliday, 408 Eighth street, has been given permission to build a frame garage which will cost, according to estimates, $200.

Treasure Hunt In Y.M.C.A. Pool

The midget class of the "Y" enjoyed a candy treasure hunt in the pool. The following boys won prizes: Jim Bower, Ed. Orr, Dennis Newhard, John Kolunie and Jim Cox.

On Saturday the boys of the midget class are to take part in the candy hunt which will be held on the gym floor as a part of their regular gymnasium program.

Trout from Scotland have been successfully introduced into the rivers of the Cameron Highlands in Malaya, only 400 miles from the Equator.

Best Cough Remedy Is Easily Mixed at Home

It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.

To get the quickest imaginable relief from coughs due to colds, mix your own remedy at home. Once tried, you'll never be without it in your home, and it's so simple and easy. First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed. Then get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugstore. This is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, well known for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste. And for quick, blessed relief, it is amazing. You can feel it take hold in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get a good night's sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.
